and they seek to infuse today's jaded language of hope with a new vitality. The Future of Hope offers a powerful critique of today's stifling cultural climate and shows why the vision of hope central to Christian faith must be a basic component of any flourishing society. The first section of the book sets the context with telling cultural criticism of modernity. The second section focuses on affinities between premodern Christian visions of hope and twentieth century thought. The final section of the book examines the relationship between postmodern thought, Christian tradition and biblical hope, addressing how Christians in a postmodern world can best articulate their faith. Written by truly profound thinkers, these chapters are diverse in their content, methodologies and temperament yet they are united by a deep engagement with both the Christian tradition and the larger cultural and intellectual climate in which we live and work. The Future of Hope can thus be read not just as an attempt at retrieval of hope for today but as itself one small act of hope in an age when people too seldom take time to think critically and hopefully.

Analog Fictions for the Digital Age Julia Breitbach, 2012. Shows how current photographic discourse can illuminate the analysis of recent literary realism and proposes a truly original photographic hermeneutics for literary study. Both realist and postmodernist aesthetics in the twenty-first century and the legacy of analog photography in its recent digital incarnation depend on an aesthetics of trust and a sense of contingent referentiality. Julia Breitbach's innovative study demonstrates how current photographic discourse may be used as an illuminating critical idiom for the analysis of recent forms of literary realism, thus proposing a photographic hermeneutics for the study of literature. Along with a thorough critical investigation of both fields, Breitbach offers a pioneering theoretical exploration of analog and digital photography based on recent thing theory, which she then applies to in-depth analyses of realist aesthetics in selected post-millennial novels by Don DeLillo, Michael Ondaatje, and Ali Smith, yielding fresh perspectives on the remediation between photography and literature in the twenty-first century. An original contribution to the study of contemporary Anglophone literatures with an interdisciplinary appeal, this study will be of interest especially to scholars and students in Anglophone literary studies, comparative literature, cultural studies, and media studies. Julia Breitbach is Assistant Professor in the Department of American Studies at the University of Konstanz, Germany.

Gandhi in the West Sean Scalmer, 2011-01-06. The non-violent protests of civil rights activists and anti-nuclear campaigners during the 1960s helped to redefine Western politics. But where did they come from? Sean Scalmer uncovers their history in an earlier generation's intense struggles to understand and emulate the activities of Mahatma Gandhi. He shows how Gandhi's non-violent protests were the subject of widespread discussion and debate in the USA and UK for several decades. Though at first misrepresented by Western newspapers, they were patiently described and clarified by a devoted group of cosmopolitan advocates. Small groups of Westerners experimented with Gandhian techniques in virtual anonymity, and then on the cusp of the 1960s brought these methods to a wider audience. The swelling protests of later years increasingly abandoned the spirit of non violence and the central significance of Gandhi and his supporters has therefore been forgotten This book recovers this tradition charts its transformation and ponders its abiding significance Refugees from Nazi-occupied Europe in British Overseas Territories Swen Steinberg,Anthony Grenville,2020-04-28 Refugees from Nazi occupied Europe in British Overseas Territories focusses on exiles and forced migrants in British colonies and dominions in Africa or Asia and in Commonwealth countries The contributions deal with aspects such as legal status and internment rescue and relief identity and belonging the Central European encounter with the colonial and post colonial world memories and generations or knowledge transfers and cultural representations in writing painting architecture music and filmmaking The volume covers refugee destinations and the situation on arrival reorientation and very often further migration after the Second World War in Australia Canada India Kenya Palestine Shanghai Singapore South Africa and New Zealand Contributors are Rony Alfandary Gerrit Jan Berendse Albrecht D mling Patrick Farges Brigitte Mayr Michael Omasta Jyoti Sabharwal Sarah Schwab Ursula Seeber Andrea Strutz Monica Tempian Jutta Vinzent Paul Weindling and Veronika Zwerger
