Basic Management Plan for Care Under Fire

- 1 Return fire and take cover
- 2 Direct or expect casualty to remain engaged as a combatant if appropriate
- 3 Direct casualty to move to cover and apply self aid if able
- 4 Try to keep the casualty from sustaining additional wounds
- 5 Casualties should be extricated from burning vehicles or buildings and moved to places of relative safety Do what is necessary to stop the burning process
- 6 Airway management is generally best deferred until the Tactical Field Care phase
- 7 Stop life threatening external hemorrhage if tactically feasible

Direct casualty to control hemorrhage by self aid if able Use a CoTCCC recommended tourniquet for hemorrhage that is anatomically amenable to tourniquet application Apply the tourniquet proximal to the bleeding site over the uniform tighten and move the casualty to cover

SOF Combat Casualty Care Handbook Combined Arms Center , This handbook was previously distributed as a supplement to the Journal of Special Operations Medicine The realm of special operations forces SOF medicine is a unique and ever changing one that demands specialized training for our joint SOF Managing trauma on today s battlefield presents a dynamic array of challenges where limited resources can be rapidly overwhelmed An austere environment hostile gunfire and delays in casualty evacuation CASEVAC are the norms for the special operations medic The material in this handbook was gleaned from special operations medics operating in the Global War on Terrorism and other operational environments It should not be viewed as a substitute for the professional training and judgment of special operations medics rather it is designed to be a hip pocket reference on the tactics techniques and procedures TTP of SOF relevant tactical combat casualty care

Key Lessons Ninety percent of combat loss of life occurs before casualties ever reach a military treatment facility MTF treatment prior to casualty evacuation is vital Litter carries are fundamental for good patient care they prevent further injury and get individuals off target as soon as possible Rehearse manual carry methods prior to deployment Every special operations warfighter should carry a tourniquet and be thoroughly familiar with its application When managing multiple casualties apply the principles of triage in classifying the priority of treatment and evacuation Rehearse and employ all of the mechanics of CASEVAC from the point of injury to the handover at a MTF This handbook provides a number of considerations when employing medical support to SOF in combat The challenges are numerous but the special operations medic must deliver medical care to save Soldiers lives The collection of TTP in this handbook will enhance the medic s ability to determine the optimum method to deliver casualty survival assistance

PRINCIPLES OF TACTICAL COMBAT CASUALTY CARE TCCC The principles of Tactical Combat Casualty Care are fundamentally different from those of traditional civilian trauma care where most medical providers and medics train These differences are based on both the unique patterns and types of wounds that are suffered in combat and the tactical conditions medical personnel face in combat Unique combat wounds and tactical conditions make it difficult to determine which intervention to perform at what time Besides addressing a casualty s medical condition responding medical personnel must also address the tactical problems faced while providing care in combat A medically correct intervention at the wrong time may lead to further casualties Put another way good medicine may be a bad tactical decision which can get the rescuer and the casualty killed To successfully navigate these issues medical providers must have skills and training oriented to combat trauma care as opposed to civilian trauma care The specifics of casualty care in the tactical setting will depend on the tactical situation the injuries sustained by the casualty the knowledge and skills of the first responder and the medical equipment at hand In contrast to a hospital Emergency Department setting where the patient IS the mission on the battlefield care of casualties sustained is only PART of the mission TCCC recognizes this fact and structures its guidelines to accomplish three primary goals 1 Treat the casualty 2 Prevent additional casualties 3 Complete the mission In thinking about the management of combat casualties it is helpful to divide care into three distinct phases each with its own characteristics and limitations
