SNUFFING Up the WIND Theomonarchism in the Biblical Text Michael Selzer, 2014-12-13 God said to Israel I planned that you should be free from kingships Whence this As it is said A wild ass used to the wilderness Jer 2 24 just as the wild ass grows up in the wilderness and has no fear of man so too I planned that you should have no fear of kings but you did not desire so but That snuffeth up the wind in her desire ibid and wind is nothing but kingship God said Should you assert that I do not know that in the end you will forsake Me already long ago I warned you through Moses and said to him Seeing that in the end they will ask for a mortal king Midrash Rabbah Seder Shoftim Almost but not completely obscured in the Biblical text are passages that establish the existence of a doctrine that God is King and that only He and not a mortal king may reign over the Children of Israel Snuffing Up The Wind identifies and analyzes the more important of these passages Notes on Theomonarchism in the Biblical Text Michael Selzer, 2015-12-20 Almost but not completely obscured in the Biblical text are passages that affirm the existence of a doctrine that God rules Israel and that therefore no mortal may do so This doctrine theomonarchism runs counter to the fervent monarchism that prevailed when the Biblical text was finally set Nevertheless traces of its existence did survive there though little attention is usually paid to them In NOTES ON THEOMONARCHISM these traces are identified and the more notable among them analyzed MICHAEL SELZER has an undergraduate degree in Semitic studies from the University of Oxford
