International Perspectives on Natural Disasters: Occurrence, Mitigation, and Consequences Joseph P. Stoltman, John Lidstone, Lisa M. DeChano, 2007-03-01 Reports of natural disasters fill the media with regularity Places in the world are affected by natural disaster events every day Such events include earthquakes cyclones tsunamis wildfires the list could go on for considerable length In the 1990s there was a concentrated focus on natural disaster information and mitigation during the International Decade for Natural Disasters Reduction IDNDR The information was technical and provided the basis for major initiatives in building structures designed for seismic safety slope stability severe storm warning systems and global monitoring and reporting Mitigation or planning in the event that natural hazards prevalent in a region would suddenly become natural disasters was a major goal of the decade long program During the IDNDR this book was conceptualized and planning for its completion began The editors saw the need for a book that would reach a broad range of readers who were not actively or directly engaged in natural disasters relief or mitigation planning but who were in decision making positions that provided an open window for addressing natural disaster issues Those people were largely elected public officials teachers non governmental organization staff and staff of faith based organizations Those people for the most part come to know very well the human and physical characteristics of the place in which they are based With that local outreach in mind the editors intended the book to encourage readers to 1 Citizenship Education in Small States: Trinidad and Tobago Pat Ellis,2002 Identity and diversity in all its forms present major challenges to countries seeking to best equip citizens with the skills to participate effectively in their diverse societies This investigation into citizenship education in Trinidad and Tobago produced information about the type nature and variety of programs being offered the topics covered in these programs the approaches and methodologies being used and the groups that participate in the programs It also highlighted the fact that government and civil society organizations are involved in citizenship education Additionally the investigation provided opportunities for individuals and organizations to identify the challenges of being a citizen in the multi ethnic multi cultural and multi religious society of Trinidad and Tobago Participation in the search conference which collected information for the study provided opportunities for individuals and organizations to share concerns about their work Primary data were collected in a questionnaire given to organizations in the sample in meetings and in face to face and telephone interviews Among the concerns and issues identified and discussed were values identity difference and diversity inequalities citizenship and the good citizen democracy and governance the socio economic situation and its impact on citizens the ideology and structure of the education system and the content delivery evaluation and impact of citizenship education programs A list of participants at the Search Conference is appended BT Caribbean Tourism ,1984

Caribbean Affairs ,1994 Solid Waste Management Elizabeth M. Thomas-Hope,1998 Solid waste has become a major consequence of development and modernization yet some of the greatest challenges to its management are felt most keenly in the developing countries This is part of the larger paradox of development namely that factors that create the most intransigent problems currently facing the developing countries are invariably those which derive from development itself Introduction This volume presents a collection of papers which with perspectives from Africa and the Caribbean raise critical issues in the management of solid waste It is intended to offer a basis for discussion among the wide range of disciplines and sectors involved in solid waste management and suggest directions for future work both in the theoretical and practical dimensions of the challenge with which developing countries are confronted Caribbean Geography ,1983 Tourism and Hospitality Education and Training in the Caribbean Chandana Jayawardena,2002 This comprehensive text is vital reading for managers academics consultants and students involved in the growing tourism and hospitality sector in the Caribbean In twenty four articles the book analyzes significant initiatives trends and the challenges facing education and training institutions in the Caribbean Chapters on sustainable tourism environmental management and national resource development cover a wide variety of critical topics facing the industry Case studies from The Bahamas Barbados Belize
