Eurocentrism at the Margins Lutfi Sunar, 2016-05-05 Eurocentrism remains a prevailing feature of Western dominated social scientific perspectives tending to ignore alternative views originating outside the West and thus maintaining a form of scholarly hegemony As such there is an urgent need to reconsider Eurocentrism in social science to ask whether it constitutes an obstacle to understanding social problems and whether it is possible to go beyond Eurocentrism in the construction of reliable more universal knowledge At the same time certain questions persist particularly with regard to the extent to which recent revisionist challenges have really contributed to the surmounting of Eurocentric domination and whether the constant repetition of the concept serves to reinforce it This book engages with the central problems of Eurocentrism in the social sciences bringing together the work of scholars from around the world to offer a critique of this perspective from both European and non European positions thus shedding light on the binaries that often come into being in debates in this field Thematically organised and addressing a range of questions including Eurocentrism in historical studies in the understanding of religion and civilisation and in the study of international relations as well as in the institutionalisation and professionalisation of research and discourses on modernisation in the Middle East Eurocentrism at the Margins will appeal to scholars with interests in knowledge production and circulation and Eurocentrism and post colonialism in the social sciences

Care, Power, Information Alexander Stigl, 2019-12-05 This book is a critique and provincialization of Western social science and Global Northern academia by the author of The Digital Coloniality of Power It exposes shared colonial and extractive rationalities and histories of research higher education digitalization and bioeconomy while proposing in the idea of BluesCollarship a sketch for an alternative culture of worlding and commoning knowledge work and for making care matter in research and higher education In a discourse analysis and provincialization of research and higher education a tradition of elitist White Collaredness in academia and in the social sciences in particular is criticized and an alternative attitude towards the production transfer and use of knowledge BluesCollarship is proposed The latter is rooted in a different idea of what infrastructure is and in practices of decoloniality Noting the current political climate of propaganda and populism the persistence of social inequalities as well as of racism and misogyny it is proposed that how people give warrant for knowledge claims should be reviewed under different terms A coherent theme is that there is a genealogical root for current neo extractive and neo colonial rationalities in the Athenian idea of oikos which conflates family household and property In taking a distinctly writerly approach rather than giving ready made answers the book aims at permanently provoking readers at every turn to think further as well as before and beyond what is written but to do so in thinking together with Others Thus the book addresses scholars and students from across the social sciences who seek challenges to established ways of thinking in academia without simply replacing one canon for another This book is for those who think of themselves as knowledge and culture laborers in this age of precarization who seek to replace the university and cognitive capitalism with a pluriversity and an infrastructure built on knowledge and culture as fundamental values

Distance, Rating Systems and Enterprise Finance Franz Flögel, 2018-07-27 In response to the credit crunch during the global financial crisis of 2007 2008 many have called for the re establishment of regional banks in the UK and elsewhere In this context Germany's regional banking system with its more than 1 400 small and regional savings banks and cooperative banks is viewed as a role model in the financing of small and medium sized enterprises SMEs However in line with the death of distance debate the universal application of ICT based scoring and rating systems potentially obviates the necessity for proximity to reduce information asymmetries between banks and SMEs calling into question the key advantage of regional banks Utilising novel ethnographic findings from full time participant observation and interviews this book presents intimate insights into regional savings banks and compares their SME lending practices with large nationwide operating commercial banks in Germany The ethnographic insights are contextualised by concise description of the three pillar German banking system covering bank regulation structural and geographical developments and enterprise finance Furthermore the book advances an original theoretical approach that combines classical banking theories with insights from social studies of finance on the ontological foundation of new realism Ethnographic findings reveal varying distances of credit granting depending on the rating results i e large banks allocate considerable credit granting authority to local staff and therefore challenge the proximity advantages of regional banks Nevertheless by presenting case studies of lending to SMEs the book demonstrates the ability of regional banks to capitalise on proximity when screening and monitoring financially distressed SMEs and explains why the suggestion that ICT can substitute for proximity in SME lending has to be rejected

Carmel Diezmann, Susan Grieshaber, 2019-02-13 This book explores the career paths of Australian women who have succeeded in achieving professorships and beyond where for the most part such positions are predominately occupied by males. It also explores the gendered culture that exists across faculties and universities as reported by participants in a survey questionnaire of 525 new professors female and male and nearly 30 interviews of women in Australian higher education either in small focus groups or individually. Further it identifies catalysts for and inhibitors of success for women and looks in depth at the boys club and how it impacts women's progression. The book also highlights how critical life decisions, doctoral study work and family shape the careers of academic women. It identifies five distinct career profiles for women academics and the pressure points and effective support for each profile. Thus this book can assist women academics who are making life decisions and those supporting their career progression. It also provides insights into why affirmative action initiatives to improve the proportion of women in the professoriate have had minimal impact despite considerable investment over the past 30 years.
