UNIT 1 – Paper 01

1 hour 30 minutes

01 JUNE 2022 (p.m.)

READ THE FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS CAREFULLY.

1. This test consists of 45 items. You will have 1 hour and 30 minutes to answer them.
2. In addition to this test booklet, you should have an answer sheet.
3. Do not be concerned that the answer sheet provides spaces for more answers than there are items in this test.
4. Each item in this test has four suggested answers lettered (A), (B), (C), (D). Read each item you are about to answer and decide which choice is best.
5. On your answer sheet, find the number which corresponds to your item and shade the space having the same letter as the answer you have chosen. Look at the sample item below.

Sample Item

Which theoretical approach is associated with microsociology?

- (A) Marxism
- (B) Neofunctionalism
- (C) Classical functionalism
- (D) Symbolic interactionism

Sample Answer

The best answer to this item is “Symbolic interactionism”, so (D) has been shaded.

6. If you want to change your answer, erase it completely before you fill in your new choice.
7. When you are told to begin, turn the page and work as quickly and as carefully as you can. If you cannot answer an item, go on to the next one. You may return to that item later.
8. You may do any rough work in this booklet.
9. You may use a silent, non-programmable calculator to answer items.

Stories of Care: A Labour of Law LJB Hayes, 2017-05-10 Stories of Care A Labour of Law is an interdisciplinary study of the interactions of law and labour that shape paid care work Based on the experiences of homecare workers this highly topical text unpicks doctrinal assumptions about class and gender to interrogate contemporary labour law It demonstrates how the UK's crisis in social care is connected to the gendered inadequacy of labour law and argues for transformative change to law at work Utterly compelling Perhaps the best ever example in modern labour law scholarship of research led recommendations Keith Ewing Professor of Public Law King's College London An important contribution to socio legal research on care work and labour law Judy Fudge Professor of Labour Law University of Kent Innovative and meticulous merits a very wide readership Lizzie Barmes Professor of Labour Law Queen Mary University of London A really important text which shows through deep analysis of care workers stories how badly undervalued their work is It offers an excellent analysis Robin Allen QC Cloisters Chambers A rare and valuable insight into the lives and views of women who work in the little known world of homecare for rates of pay and conditions that shame our society David Brindle Public Services Editor The Guardian Boundary breaking an outstanding contribution to the growing field of feminist labour law scholarship Joanne Conaghan Professor of Law University of Bristol

European Integration, Processes of Change and the National Experience S. Börner, M. Eigmüller, 2015-06-02 In order to better understand processes of European integration this book offers a new perspective that compares past experiences of change to current transitional moments at the European level It addresses key questions about European society EU integration and social change to reveal the social construction of emergent polities and societies

Citizen Rights, Migrant Rights and Civic Stratification Lydia Morris, 2024-07-05 This book explores the concept of civic stratification and examines its contemporary relevance for analysis and understanding of the functioning of rights in society David Lockwood's 1996 concept of civic stratification outlines the way in which the rights associated with citizenship can be a source of inequality by virtue of their formal granting or denial by the state or by informal impediments to their full realisation The purpose of this book is to explore the meaning and significance of this concept and elaborate its potential in offering a framework for understanding the dynamic nature of rights Lockwood's model reverses Marshall's 1950 view of citizenship as guaranteed inclusion in society and is linked to the way that the differential entitlement and the qualifying conditions associated with certain rights can be harnessed as a means of control While both Marshall and Lockwood were principally concerned with the rights attaching to citizenship this book extends the insights of these two authors to show how such controls apply in various ways to both citizens and non citizens alike Building on Lockwood's conception of moral resources the book set out a theoretical framework and empirical illustration of how the position of different groups within society is subject to shifting perceptions of social worth and is engaged both in claims to fuller access to rights and in justifications of their denial or removal This book will appeal to scholars and higher level students with relevant interests in sociolegal studies sociology social policy and politics The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution NoDerivatives CC BY ND 4.0 license This publication was supported by the University of Essex's open access fund

Rational Accidents John Downer, 2024-01-16 An unflinching look at the unique challenges posed by complex technologies we cannot afford to let fail and why the remarkable achievements of civil aviation can help us understand those challenges Nuclear reactors deep sea drilling platforms deterrence infrastructures these are all complex and formidable technologies with the potential to fail catastrophically In Rational Accidents John Downer outlines a new perspective on technological failure arguing that undetectable errors can lurk in even the most rigorous and rational assessments of these systems due to the inherent limits of engineering tests and models Downer finds that it should be impossible from an epistemological viewpoint to achieve the near perfect reliability that we require of our most safety critical technologies There is however one such technology that demonstrably appears to achieve these impossible reliabilities jetliners Downer looks closely at civil aviation and how it has reckoned with the problem of failure He finds that the way we conceive of jetliner reliability hides the real practices by which it is achieved And he shows us why those practices are much less transferrable across technological domains than we are led to believe Fully understanding why jetliners don't crash he concludes should lead us to doubt the safety of other ultra reliable technologies A unique and sobering exploration of technological reliability from an STS perspective Rational Accidents is essential reading for understanding why our most safety critical technologies are even more dangerous than we believe

Young Adult Development at the School-to-Work Transition E. Anne Marshall, Jennifer E. Symonds, 2021-01-18 The school to work transition is a critical part of the human life span for young adults their families and society The timing of the transition varies greatly and its co occurrence with a number of other life transitions make it challenging to summarize or generalize Individual differences and normative developmental factors as well as external contextual factors such as global pandemics changing economic circumstances workplace demands and cultural shifts intersect to create a range of challenges and opportunities for those navigating this transition Written by internationally renowned scholars in developmental psychology
