Socializing States Ryan Goodman,Derek Jinks,2013-09-19 This book argues for a greater specification of how international law influences relevant actors to improve human rights It argues that states are influenced via general social processes such as cultural contagion identification and mimicry These processes occasion a rethinking of fundamental regime design problems in human rights law Discrimination by Default: How Racism Becomes Routine Lu-in Wang,2006 Social Psychology Aronson,1999-06-01 The Mentality of Partisans of the Polish Anti-Communist Underground 1944-1956 Mariusz Mazur,2022-10-30 This book is the first study of the mentality of anti Communist underground fighters and presents especially their thinking ideals stereotypes and customs The models and psychological processes that the volume analyses are relevant not only to the Polish partisans but also to members of other underground organisations in East Central Europe South America and Asia It explores how the underground organizations were created who joined them and why what thoughts and emotions were involved and what were the consequences of the decisions to join them Experiences and situations are illustrated with excerpts of diaries and memoirs which reveal the thinking of people in extreme situations when their lives are in danger when they are caught in desperate conflicts or are fighting against overwhelming government forces The Mentality of Partisans is useful for upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in the history of Europe resistance movements anticommunism military and political conflicts World War Two and non classical historiography Perpetrating Genocide Kjell Anderson,2017-11-23 Focusing on the relationship between the micro level of perpetrator motivation and the macro level normative discourse this book offers an in depth explanation for the perpetration of genocide It is the first comparative criminological treatment of genocide drawn from original field research based substantially on the author s interviews with perpetrators and victims of genocide and mass atrocities combined with wide ranging secondary and archival sources Topics covered include perpetration in organizations genocidal propaganda the characteristics of perpetrators decision making in genocide genocidal mobilization coping with killing perpetrator memory and trauma moral rationalization and transitional justice An interdisciplinary and comparative analysis this book utilizes scientific methods with the objective of gaining some degree of insight into the causes of genocide and genocide perpetration It is argued that genocide is more than a mere intellectual abstraction it is a crime with real consequences and real victims Abstraction and objectivity may be intellectual ideals but they are not ideally humane genocide is ultimately about the destruction of humanity Thus this book avoids presenting an overly abstract image of genocide but rather grounds its analysis in interviews with victims and perpetrators of genocide in Rwanda Burundi Uganda Bosnia Cambodia Bangladesh and Iraq This book will be highly useful to students and scholars with an interest in genocide and the causes of mass violence It will also be of interest to policy makers engaged with the issues of genocide and conflict prevention

The American Drug Culture Thomas S. Weinberg, Gerhard Falk, Ursula Adler Falk, 2017-12-14 The American Drug Culture uses sociological and other perspectives to examine drug and alcohol use in U S society The text is arranged topically rather than by categories of drugs and explores diverse contexts of drug use including popular culture sexuality the legal and criminal justice systems other social institutions and mental and physical health It features more coverage of alcohol the most widely used drug in the U S than other texts for this course Authors Thomas S Weinberg Gerhard Falk and Ursula Falk include case studies from their field research to give you empathetic insights into the situation of those with substance and alcohol use disorders

Gifted Education in Rural Schools Amy Price Azano, Carolyn M. Callahan, 2021-02-27 This text draws on data from a five year longitudinal study focusing on gifted education programs in high poverty rural areas in the US It provides a framework for the use of place based interventions to effectively serve gifted students reduce opportunity gaps and address stereotype threat Recognizing that gifted learners are often underrepresented in rural contexts the text adopts a social justice lens to outline the unique challenges of fostering advanced education in rural school districts Using opportunities to learn and best practices in gifted education to inform interventions and practice the text offers in depth explanation of how place based approaches can be used to identify gifted students and ensure that curricula are designed to respect the setting students and teachers The text is structured into three parts providing the reader with a logical and comprehensive progression through theoretical foundations the practicalities of implementation and the process and outcomes of measuring and validating outcomes Given its unique approach to gifted education programs this book will prove to be an indispensable and timely resource for scholars working to develop gifted education and educational interventions with and for rural schools

Persuasion and Influence in American Life Gary C. Woodward, Robert E. Denton, Jr., 2018-06-04 The eighth edition provides a streamlined up to date presentation of classic and contemporary theories of persuasion For more than three decades the authors have guided readers through the cultural psychological and sociological forces influencing why how and when humans change their minds Exploring the complexities and subtleties of persuasive attempts from interpersonal interactions to political advertising is essential for making informed judgments about the value of increasingly pervasive messages The practice of persuasion is no longer limited to a select few and formal audiences Online networks with unprecedented reach extend opportunities for multiple persuaders and peer to peer influence Woodward and Denton acknowledge the opportunities and challenges posed by social media and various digital platforms The final chapter emphasizes visual communication and core strategies for the construction of short messages tailored for digital and commercial media Engaging descriptions and multiple examples illustrate the dynamic interactive nature of persuasion Short sidebars in every chapter suggest interesting applications of key ideas Becoming responsible ethical and credible persuaders and or critical consumers of messages is an intriguing and sometimes surprising journey

Ghost Citizens Lukasz Krzyzanowski, 2020-06-16 The poignant story of Holocaust survivors who returned to their hometown in Poland and tried to pick up the pieces of a shattered world In the immediate aftermath of World War II the lives of Polish Jews were marked by violence and emigration But some of those who had survived the Nazi genocide returned to their hometowns and tried to start their lives anew Lukasz Krzyzanowski recounts the story of this largely forgotten group of Holocaust survivors Focusing on Radom an industrial city about sixty miles south of Warsaw he tells the story of what happened throughout provincial Poland as returnees faced new struggles along with massive political social and legal change Non Jewish locals mostly viewed the survivors with contempt and hostility Many Jews left immediately escaping anti Semitic violence inflicted by new communist authorities and ordinary Poles Those who stayed created a small isolated community Amid the devastation of Poland recurring violence and bureaucratic hurdles they tried to start over They attempted to rebuild local Jewish life recover their homes and workplaces and reclaim property appropriated by non Jewish Poles or the state At times they turned on their own Krzyzanowski recounts stories of Jewish gangs bent on depriving returnees of their prewar possessions and of survivors shunned for their wartime conduct The experiences of returning Jews provide important insights into the dynamics of post genocide recovery Drawing on a rare collection of documents including the postwar Radom Jewish

Committee records which were discovered by the secret police in 1974 Ghost Citizens is the moving story of Holocaust survivors and their struggle to restore their lives in a place that was no longer home
