Evidence Matters ,2015 (Re)Constructing Memory: Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J. Bellino,James H. Williams,2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces

Social Studies Education in East Asian Contexts Kerry J. Kennedy,2020-07-28 The book explores the state of social studies education within selected East Asian societies and provides some insights into distinctive classroom practices In an increasingly volatile and unpredictable world the education of young people who both understand the contexts in which they are growing up and see the need for engaging with them is a top priority This task falls to social studies education which carries the responsibility for inducting young people into their social world and helping them to see the role they can play within it This is particularly important in East Asia where strong economic growth long held cultural values and diverse political systems create an environment that challenges young people on multiple fronts This book with its team of regional authors shows how different societies in the region are dealing with these challenges and what can be expected from future citizens The book will appeal to policy makers researchers and teachers interested in the current state of social studies education in East Asian societies

Reinventing Detroit Michael Peter Smith, 2017-09-29 This book addresses the questions of what went wrong with Detroit and what can be done to reinvent the Motor City Various answers to the former deindustrialization white flight and a disappearing tax base are now well understood Less discussed are potential paths forward stemming from alternative explanations of Detroit's long term decline and reconsideration of the challenges the city currently faces Urban crisis socioeconomic fiscal and political has seemingly narrowed the range of possible interventions Growth oriented redevelopment strategies have not reversed Detroit's decline but in the wake of crisis officials have increasingly funnelled limited public resources into the city's commercial core via an implicit policy of urban triage The crisis has also led to the emergency management of the city by extra democratic entities As a disruptive historical event Detroit's crisis is a moment teeming with political possibilities The critical rethinking of Detroit's past present and future is essential reading for both urban studies scholars and the general public

Seeing White Jean Halley, Amy Eshleman, Ramya Mahadevan Vijaya, 2022-01-14 Seeing White An Introduction to White Privilege and Race Second Edition is an interdisciplinary supplemental textbook that challenges undergraduate students to see race as everyone's issue The book's early chapters establish a solid understanding of privilege and power leading to a critical exploration of discrimination The authors also draw upon key theoretical perspectives such as cultural materialism critical race theory and the social construction of race to provide students with the tools to discuss racial privilege The book's interdisciplinary approach including perspectives from sociology psychology history and economics provides a holistic and accessible introduction to the challenging issue of race Throughout the book compelling concrete examples and detailed definitions of terminology help students to understand theoretical perspectives and research evidence Discussion questions at the end of each chapter encourage students to think critically about the theories and evidence often prompting students to relate the material in the text to their own experiences New to this Edition New Chapter 4 White Supremacy and Other Forms of Everyday Racism provides a history of white supremacy and its links to racism today New research on racial disparities in health equity helps debunk the idea of race as a biological category Chapter 2 Revised Chapter 6 Socioeconomic Class and White Privilege offers new material on the economic privilege of whiteness and the uneven distribution of American wealth Expanded history and discussion of Immigration laws including Chinese Exclusion Act Immigration Act of 1924 and 1965 Hart Cellar Act present immigration in a global context and challenge anti immigration rhetoric New as well as updated stories on exclusion from white spaces and the normativity of white culture engage students in critical reflection

The UK Regional-National Economic Problem Philip McCann,2016-03-10 In recent years the United Kingdom has become a more and more divided society with inequality between the regions as marked as it has ever been In a landmark analysis of the current state of Britain s regional development Philip McCann utilises current statistics examines historical trends and makes pertinent international comparisons to assess the state of the nation The UK Regional National Economic Problem brings attention to the highly centralised top down governance structure that the UK deploys and demonstrates that it is less than ideally placed to rectify these inequalities The North South divide in the UK has never been greater and the rising inequalities are evident in almost all aspects of the economy including productivity incomes employment status and wealth Whilst the traditional economic dominance of London and its hinterland has continued along with relative resilience in the South West of England and Scotland in contrast the Midlands the North of England Northern Ireland and Wales lag behind by most measures of prosperity This inequality is greatly limiting national economic performance and the fact that Britain has a below average standard of living by European and OECD terms has been ignored The UK s economic and governance inequality is unlikely to be fundamentally rebalanced by the current governance and connectivity trends although this definitive study suggests that some areas of improvement are possible if they are well implemented This pivotal analysis is essential reading for postgraduate students in economics and urban studies as well as researchers and policy makers in local and central government

Conceptualizing Mass Violence Navras J. Aafreedi,Priya Singh,2021-05-13 Conceptualizing Mass Violence draws attention to the conspicuous inability to inhibit mass violence in myriads forms and considers the plausible reasons for doing so Focusing on a postcolonial perspective the volume seeks to popularize and institutionalize the study of mass violence in South Asia The essays explore and deliberate upon the varied aspects of mass violence namely revisionism reconstruction atrocities trauma memorialization and literature the need for Holocaust education and the criticality of dialogue and reconciliation The language content and characteristics of mass violence genocide explicitly reinforce its aggressive transmuting and multifaceted character and the consequent necessity to understand the same in a nuanced manner The book is an attempt to do so as it takes episodes of mass violence for case study from all inhabited continents from the twentieth century to the present The volume studies consciously enforced mass violence through an interdisciplinary approach and suggests that dialogue aimed at reconciliation is perhaps the singular agency via which a solution could be achieved from mass violence in the global context The volume is essential reading for postgraduate students and scholars from the interdisciplinary fields of Holocaust and Genocide Studies History Political Science Sociology World History Human Rights and Global Studies

Drones and Unmanned Aerial Systems Aleš Završnik,2015-12-23 This book tackles the regulatory issues of Unmanned Aerial Systems UAS or Remotely Piloted Aerial Systems RPAS which have profound consequences for privacy security and other fundamental liberties Collectively known as drones they were initially deployed for military purposes reconnaissance surveillance and extrajudicial executions Today we are witnessing a growth of their use into the civilian and humanitarian domain They are increasingly used for goals as diverse as news gathering aerial inspection of oil refinery flare stacks mapping of the Amazonian rain forest crop spraying and search and rescue operations The civil use of drones is becoming a reality in the European Union and in the US The drone revolution may be a new technological revolution Proliferation of the next generation of recreational drones show how drones will be sold as any other consumer item The cultural perception of the technology is shifting as drones are increasingly being used for humanitarian activities on one hand but they can also firmly be situated in the prevailing modes of postmodern governance on the other hand This work will be of interest to researchers in Criminology and Criminal Justice interested in issues related to surveillance security privacy and technology It will also provide a criminological background for related legal issues such as privacy law aviation law international criminal law and comparative law
