He sees around him with a hope of finding the same perfection in everything which his parents had provided him with. In no time, he realizes that the Utopian concept of a perfect world should be confined to the fictional island created by Thomas More in his widely renowned novel only. That Utopia was far from reality and had nothing to do with the world around us. It's a world abound with countless problems- social, economic, legal, political, spiritual and the list goes on.

Certain social and economic conditions become a menace for the society when they start asserting negative influence on the society. Tool* Charles M.A. Clark,2012-12-06 Marc R Tool both through his writings and his editorship of the Journal of Economic Issues has had a profound influence on institutional economics Tool s efforts in his own words has been to keep values on the agenda of economic inquiry which is another way of saying keep economic inquiry relevant Tool s work on the theory of social value and instrumental valuation has helped to keep institutional economics focused on the core economic and social issues facing society providing both a perspective from which to analyze the economy and a criteria for evaluating outcomes This collection of essays is a testament to this legacy Although these 15 chapters cover a wide and diverse range of topics it is the common themes which are most striking the inescapable necessity of values in economic discourse the central role of valuation in economic activity and most importantly the requirement of democratic participation to achieve efficient solutions to the economic problem These essays are offered to honor a body of work a set of ideas but mostly a man who by directing economic inquiry to these core issues has promoted the continuity of human life and the noninvidious recreation of community through the instrumental use of knowledge Essays on Secularism and Multiculturalism Tariq Modood,2019-04-25 Whether the recently settled religious minorities Muslims in particular can be accommodated as religious groups in European countries has become a central political question and threatens to create long term fault lines

In this collection of essays Tariq Modood argues that to grasp the nature of the problem we have to see how Muslims have become a target of a cultural racism Islamophobia Yet the problem is not just one of anti racism but of an understanding of multicultural citizenship of how minority identities including those formed by race ethnicity and religion can be incorporated into national identities so all can have a sense of belonging together This means that the tendency amongst some to exclude religious identities from public institutions and the re making of national identities has to be challenged Modood suggests that this can be done in a principled yet pragmatic way by drawing on Western Europe s moderate political secularism and eschewing forms of secularism that offer religious groups a second class citizenship
