

Designing a seat and mirror memory to a memory button using the memory control

After you have adjusted your seat and mirror, you must save them for 10 seconds to make the saving to a memory button on the memory control.

- Remove the key from the ignition.
- Press the "Save" button for the memory control (see page 55) and hold it until you hear an upward signal to let the driver that the seat and mirror settings have been registered to a memory button.

Notes

- If you have designed a seat and mirror setting to a memory button using the memory key, and then designed a new setting using a different key, the last setting will be stored and the new one will be maintained in its place.
- The assignment of a memory key to a memory button is maintained even if you store new seat and mirror adjustments to the button.
- If the vehicle battery is disconnected, all assignments between the remote control and memory buttons are erased.

Retrieving seat and mirror adjustments for driving forward

The settings stored can be retrieved both with the memory buttons B and with the re-disconnected vehicle control.

Retrieving using the Memory Buttons

For safety reasons, the seat and mirror adjustments can be retrieved only with the ignition switched off. You can choose to reset two different options:

Automatic memory key
When the driver's door opens, the automatic memory key will automatically store the current settings.

Pressing the Memory button
With the driver's door open, press the memory button on the outside mirror. The seat and mirror settings will be stored.

Note

If, during the automatic key action, the driver's door opens again, the automatic memory key will be interrupted. If you still want the button that was last pressed to be registered, you must press the button again. If you press another button, the last setting will be the last one stored.

Retrieving using the driver's key

The seat and mirror settings can be retrieved with the ignition switched off and the driver's door closed.

Press the "Load" button of the memory control (see page 55) and then close the driver's door.

Adjusting the memory control with the automatic key is the same procedure.

Adjusting mirror adjustments for driving in reverse

- Switch the ignition on.
- Select in the right outside mirror (see page 55).
- Press the B (Reverse) button.
The right outside mirror can move and rotate into the preset position.

Note

In order to see through the rearview mirror, the right outside mirror must fold into the position closest to driving forward.

Emergency off

In an emergency, you can interrupt any automatic procedure by pressing on the locking switch E (unlocking), pressing one of the memory buttons or pressing one of the seat adjustment switches.

Switch on using the locking button E

- After pressing the locking switch E, the memory system is automatically switched off. You can then only adjust the seat and the outside mirror manually. By pressing the locking switch E again, you can restart the memory system function. However, any future procedure that has been interrupted will not be continued.

The automatic side mirror has memory off with locking switch E. The mirror will be reset into its factory setting by a small arrow and will mirror adjustments do not need to be made.

Initializing the memory system¹

After disconnecting the vehicle battery, you must "reinitialize" the memory system. Otherwise it is no longer possible to store settings in memory.

- Open the driver's door.
- Switch the ignition on.
- Move the seat to the front and top stops (see page 55).
- Move the "Load" button to the driver seat (page 55).

The memory system is now reinitialized and has again fully functioned.
