Wellington's History of the Peninsular War Stuart Reid, 2019-05-30 An historic account of the Peninsula War written by the man leading forces against the French Arthur Wellesley 1st Duke of Wellington Though pressed many times to write about his battles and campaigns the Duke of Wellington always replied that people should refer to his published dispatches Yet Wellington did in effect write a history of the Peninsular War in the form of four lengthy memoranda summarizing the conduct of the war in 1809 1810 and 1811 respectively These lengthy accounts demonstrate Wellington's unmatched appreciation of the nature of the war in Spain and Portugal and relate to the operations of the French and Spanish forces as well as the Anglo Portuguese army under his command Unlike personal diaries or journals written by individual soldiers with their inevitably limited knowledge Wellington was in an unparalleled position to provide a comprehensive overview of the war Equally the memoranda were written as the war unfolded not tainted with the knowledge of hindsight providing a unique contemporaneous commentary Brought together by renowned historian Stuart Reid with reports and key dispatches from the other years of the campaign the result is the story of the Peninsular War told through the writings of the man who knew and understood the conflict in Iberia better than any other These memoranda and dispatches have never been published before in a single connected narrative Therefore Wellington's History of the Peninsular War 1808 1814 offers a uniquely accessible perspective on the conflict in the own words of Britain's greatest general

A History of New Zealand Women

Barbara Brookes, 2016-02-15 What would a history of New Zealand look like that rejected Thomas Carlyle's definition of history as the biography of great men and focused instead on the experiences of women One that shifted the angle of vision and examined the stages of this country's development from the points of view of wives daughters mothers grandmothers sisters and aunts That considered their lives as distinct from though often unwillingly influenced by those of history's great men In her ground breaking History of New Zealand Women Barbara Brookes provides just such a history This is more than an account of women in New Zealand from those who arrived on the first waka to the Grammy and Man Booker Prize winning young women of the current decade It is a comprehensive history of New Zealand seen through a female lens Brookes argues that while European men erected the political scaffolding to create a small nation women created the infrastructure necessary for colonial society to succeed Concepts of home marriage and family brought by settler women and integral to the developing state transformed the lives of Māori women The small scale of New Zealand society facilitated rapid change so that by the twenty first century women are no longer defined by family contexts In her long awaited book Barbara Brookes traces the factors that drove that change Her lively narrative draws on a wide variety of sources to map the importance in women's lives not just of legal and economic changes but of smaller joys such as the arrival of a piano from England or the freedom of riding a bicycle

Salute to Service Julia Millen, 1997 A study of the role of the RNZCT and its predecessors the NZASC and the RNZASC It examines the roles of those organisations within the army transport supply and catering and tells the stories of the many thousands of New Zealanders who worked in them Illustrated with black and white photographs The author has written many books including a biography of Ronald Hugh Morrieson

Unfolding History, Evolving Identity Manying Ip, 2003 An overview of the history and experience of Chinese in New Zealand up to the present day Historical topics range from the Chinese on the goldfields to a study of Wellington's Chinatown to studies of settler families later chapters study aspects of recent Chinese immigration such as transnationalism and the underemployment of skilled people a final section discusses political strategies adopted by the Chinese including an analysis of the search for an apology for the wrongs inflicted by the historical poll tax Page 4 of cover

An Unsettled History Alan Ward, 2015-12-21 An Unsettled History squarely confronts the issues arising from the Treaty of Waitangi in New Zealand today Alan Ward writes lucidly about the Treaty claims process about settlements made and those to come New Zealand's short history unquestionably reveals a treaty made and then repeatedly breached This is a compelling case for fair and reasonable settlement and for the rigorous continuation of the Treaty claims process through the Waitangi Tribunal The impact of the past upon the present has rarely been analysed so clearly or to such immediate purpose

A History of Children's Play Brian Sutton-Smith, 2016-11-11 New Zealand children from 1840 to 1890 were subjected to an unusual combination of agrarian existence and an industrial social philosophy in the newly formed schools When schools became more universal in the expanding industrial society a new emphasis on the control of children developed and from 1920 onward adult supervision in the form of heavily organized sports and playgrounds encroached more and more on the untrammelled freedom of the rural environment Returning to his home country of New Zealand Brian Sutton Smith documents the relationship between children's play and the actual process of history Drawing on interviews with hundreds of informants from every province and school district of New Zealand the author illuminates for the first time the various social cultural historical and psychological context in which children's play occurs He treats both formal and informal play as well as the play of both boys and girls
