English provides an invaluable introduction to the study of English for students of language and linguistics. It examines the way in which the English language is used today in different contexts and in many parts of the world by both native and non-native speakers. Issues of language use in speech and writing in work and play and in persuading and informing are explored and illustrated with data and readings from around the English-speaking world. The reader is introduced to the adaptations and variations in English language use and to debates relating to how these are perceived and evaluated by different groups of users. For this second edition, key material from the earlier bestselling book Using English: From Conversation to Canon has been reorganized and updated and entirely new material has been introduced. This new content is based on recent research in the field as well as on contemporary thinking about how speakers and writers use the English language to accomplish a huge range of purposes in a variety of linguistic and cultural settings. Drawing on The Open University's wide experience of writing accessible and innovative texts, this book explains basic concepts easily located through a comprehensive index. It includes contributions by experts in the field such as Mike Baynham, Adrian Beard, Guy Cook, Sharon Goodman, Almut Koester, Janet Maybin and Neil Mercer. It contains a range of source material and commissioned readings to supplement chapters.

Music and the Cultural Production of Scale Phil Dodds, 2023-10-04. This open access book shows how geographical scales are made through music. Scales are sets of spatial frames, abstractions or categories that denote the size, proportion, level, extent or hierarchical relations of phenomena. They are neither natural nor neutral but actively produced with real political effects. But what role do cultural practices play in the production of scale? Phil Dodds addresses this question by focusing on music, arguing that music scholarship has both most to gain from and most to offer to a fuller conceptualisation of how geographical scale is culturally produced. Dodds suggests that music scholars should treat scales as open questions and as phenomena potentially made through musical practices rather than as stable categories for framing other arguments about, say, local or global music. He analyses how the meaning of the local is affected by the aesthetics of popular music and how the relationship between the particular and the general is fused through common musical conventions. Music and the Cultural Production of Scale explores diverse musical examples including Janelle Monáe's concept albums, key tracks in the grime genre, protest songs at environmental and anti-fascist demonstrations and nineteenth-century colonial hymn singing to demonstrate how we already live in a world whose scales are made by music. The book also shows that music has the potential to produce a world scaled otherwise.

Blue Cat 7: KI Reader Wendy A. Scott, 2005. Lessons of Life Lutufyo Witson Mwamakamba, 2011-04-19. LESSONS OF LIFE One day your life will flash before your eyes. Make sure it's worth watching. It is amazing to see that sometimes a poorest man from an insignificant past can leave us with the richest inheritance. And as the author looks into his own life, realizing on what he has had, lost, gained and taken for granted, he is compelled to tell a story. Lessons of Life tells a story of a man's journey through life, a friend and father from a humble, insignificant childhood with a polygamist, atheist father. A man who rose from child labor in the cold tea mountains of the southern region of Tanzania to a magnificent future The story of a man who conquered as a result of the opportunities through education and a Christian faith It tells of his brave fight against cancer and serves as a witness to those on a journey bearing testament that no matter where you may come from or how hard the journey may be the Lord grants His mercies And in His mercies you will find opportunities to chart a journey to share a story to make a difference in the world around with memoirs of a life worth watching      Last Train Home George Simonis,2009-12-30 A fond remembrance of a love affair that began in the suburbs of Chicago in the 1950 s and found new life as the two lovers found each other again      Joel Whitburn Presents Across the Charts Joel Whitburn,2008 Book Across the Charts The 1960s is the complete story of a full ten years of music on five Billboard charts One comprehensive combined A Z Artist Section lists in chronological order for each artist all of the artist s charted hits that appeared on any of the five singles charts Shows complete chart data including data from multiple charts for crossover songs plus picture sleeve photos for certain artists special bonus sections and more Throughout the 1960s music evolved and crossed over genre lines like never before and it s all captured right here in a single mammoth all encompassing volume      Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Poetic Leaps in Zen'S Journey of Enlightenment Yong Zhi,2012-08-09 While the philosophical discussion of Zen spirituality reaches its limit poetry offers an effective expression of the sublime experiences From a poetic perspective enlightenment is understood as poetic leaps in the spiritual journey which brings people from the habitually or conventionally established world toward new horizons of consciousness This leap is a breakthrough in the overall consciousness rather than a progression in contemplative thought Therefore it cannot be adequately described through abstract representation but poetry can metaphorically capture this leap and reveal both the spiritual meaning and the practical wisdom of enlightenment This book will take you on this fantastic journey of enlightenment      Writing Organization Carl Rhodes,2001-08-21 Carl Rhodes examines the implicit power of writing and authorship that is at play when people and organisations are re presented in research To explore this the book reports a research project in the area of organisational storytelling that investigates how people in one organisation used stories to re present their own learning experiences from the implementation of a quality management program This research is written in three principal genres autobiography ethnography and a fictional short story These re presentational strategies are reviewed to examine how different genres effect authority in different ways Drawing extensively on the work of Mikhail Bakhtin and on writers associated with postmodernism and poststructuralism the book offers a challenging discussion of what organisational research might be when the notion of the equivalence of reality and representation is radically questioned
