

Module 4 Honors Radioactive Decay Lab

Instructions: Complete each section of this report and answer all questions in complete sentences for full credit. Use the lab grading rubric before you begin.

Click here to watch the lab completion video. We show the entire lab simulation (so you can record the data; don't need to be logged into the course) and explain the conclusion/post lab

Procedure

1. Place 200 candies in the shoebox*, lettered sides up. The candies represent atoms of carbon-14.
2. Cover the box and shake it for three seconds. This represents one interval of time.
3. Remove the lid and take out the candies (atoms) that are upside down (not showing letters). These pieces are the carbon-14 atoms that decayed during the time interval.
4. Count and record in a data table the number of decayed atoms and the number of remaining, not decayed, atoms.
5. Repeat steps 2 to 4 until all atoms have decayed or you have reached 30 seconds on the data table.
6. Repeat the entire experiment for a second trial and record all data.

*If easier, you can use this online coin flipper to collect the data in lieu of obtaining coins. Be sure to select NO for "show cumulative stats". We do NOT want an accumulation. (Use this video explaining how to use the coin flipper) energy and water resources to natural disasters and from changing climatic patterns to the evolution of the Earth's deep interior geoscience research affects people's lives in many ways and on many levels. This book offers a stimulating cross-disciplinary perspective on the important relationship between geoscience research and outreach activities for schools and for the general public. The contributors, academics, research scientists, science educators, and outreach program educators describe and evaluate outreach programs from around the world. A section entitled Field-based Approaches includes a chapter describing an initiative to engage Alaskan communities and students in research and another on problem-based learning in the field setting. The Online Approaches section discusses ways to connect students and scientists using online forums, use of the web, and social media, including the United Nations University and its experience with the design of a web magazine featuring geoscience research and video clips on marine geoscience created by students and scientists. The section on Workshop and Laboratory-based Approaches includes a chapter on teaching geochronology to high school students and another describing an extracurricular school activity program on meteorology. The Program Design section presents chapters on Integrating Geoscience Research in Primary and Secondary Education on ways to bridge research with science education at the high school level and on use of online geoscience data from the Great Lakes. The concluding section, Promoting Research-enhanced Outreach, offers chapters on Geoscience Outreach Education with the local community by a leading research-intensive university and on the use of research to promote action in Earth science professional development for schoolteachers. Geoscience Research and Outreach: Schools and Public Engagement will benefit geoscience researchers who wish to promote their work beyond academia. It offers guidance to those seeking research funding from agencies which increasingly request detailed plans for outreach activities in research proposals. Policymakers, educators, and scientists working in museums, learned societies, and public organizations who wish to widen participation will also find this book useful. Together with the companion volume Geoscience Research and Education: Teaching at Universities, this book showcases the key role that geoscience research plays in a wide spectrum of educational settings. Uranium Wars Amir D.

Aczel, 2025-08-22 Called one of our best science popularizers by Publishers Weekly, Amir D. Aczel tackles the cause of one of last century's most destructive events: the scientific discovery of nuclear power. Drawing on his rich storytelling skills, Aczel presents the fascinating and suspenseful story of the scientists who first uncovered the potential of uranium. Uranium Wars takes the reader on a whirlwind tour of 1920s Europe where the scientific elite of the day were embroiled in a fierce rivalry to achieve nuclear fission. Leading us to an understanding of both the processes that take place inside a uranium nucleus and its destructive power are the brilliant men and women at the heart of the race: mammoth figures such as Marie Curie, Enrico Fermi, and Lise Meitner. Enmeshed in the story of scientific intrigue is the complex and ongoing story of uranium itself, which Aczel presents as a dynamic, dual-natured force capable of providing both abundant, usable energy and generating unfathomable destructive power. From the nuclear programs in the Middle East to plans for nuclear reactors at home, the element uranium is never far from today's headlines
