Woody Guthrie's Modern World Blues Will Kaufman, 2017-10-12 Mention Woody Guthrie and people who know the name are likely to think of the Okie Bard dust storms behind him riding a boxcar or walking a red dirt road a battered guitar strapped to his back But unlock Guthrie from the confines of rural folk and Hollywood mythology as Will Kaufman does here and you'll find an abstract painter and sculptor who wrote about atomic energy and Ingrid Bergman and developed advanced theories of dialectical materialism and human engineering in short a folk singer who was deeply engaged with the art ideas and issues of his time Guthrie may have been born in the Oklahoma hills but his most productive years were spent in the metropolitan centers of Los Angeles and New York Machines and their physics were among his favorite metaphors fast cars were his passion and airplanes and even flying saucers were his frequent subjects His career long immersion in radio recording and film inspired trenchant observations concerning mass media and communication and he contributed to modern art as a prolific abstract painter graphic artist and sculptor This book explores how through multiple artistic forms Guthrie thought and felt about the scientific method atomic power and war technology as well as the shifting dynamics of gender and race Drawing on previously unpublished archival sources Kaufman brings to the fore what Guthrie s insistently folksy popular image obscures the essays visual art letters verse fiction and voluminous notebook entries that reveal his profoundly modern sensibilities Woody Guthrie emerges from these pages as a figure whose immense artistic output reflects the nation s conflicted engagement with modernity Capturing the breathtaking social and technological changes that took place during his extraordinarily productive career Woody Guthrie s Modern World Blues offers a unique and much needed new perspective on a musical icon

Modernism after Postcolonialism Mara de Gennaro,2020-11-24 A polemical reaction against a trend in global modernist studies which still privileges European and Anglophone texts Existing studies of literary modernism generally read Anglophone Atlantic texts through the lens of critical theories emanating from Europe and North America In Modernism after Postcolonialism Mara de Gennaro undertakes a comparative Anglophone Francophone study invoking theoretical frameworks from Gayatri Spivak douard Glissant Fran oise Verg s Michel Rolph Trouillot Dipesh Chakrabarty and others Examining transnational poetics of comparison that contest the comparative practices of colonialist racist and ethno nationalist discourses the book treats these poetics as models for a creolist critical method of reading one that searches out unpredictable mutually generative textual relations obscured by geographic and linguistic divides In each chapter de Gennaro pairs a canonical English language modernist writer Gertrude Stein T S Eliot E M Forster Virginia Woolf with a postcolonial writer Aim Cesaire Glissant Patrick Chamoiseau J M Coetzee Edwidge Danticat interpreting major works of prewar and interwar modernism in light of postcolonial and Francophone literature cultural theory and historiography Read together these texts suggest a turn sometimes subtle or conflicted in earlier Atlantic modernist texts while usually more overt in later Caribbean and postcolonial texts toward comparative forms marked by irresolution and a wavering sense of authority With the rise of world literature and global modernist studies it becomes all the more pressing to examine how comparative forms can alert us to unspoken and misrecognized relations while also confronting us with the difficulty of representing the Other By bringing into relation these ostensibly unconnected often discrepant texts de Gennaro challenges entrenched territorial habits of literary meaning An aspirationally nonterritorial comparative literature she argues diverges not only from Eurocentric formalist approaches but also from global comparatisms that emphasize incommensurabilities to the point of eliding significant textual and contextual connections Drawing on interdisciplinary postcolonial efforts especially in the social sciences to deterritorialize categories of identity culture and community Modernism after Postcolonialism dispenses with outdated modernist and postcolonial paradigms to reveal how the anxious inconclusive comparisons of transnational modernist poetics can call us to imagine new solidarities across bounded territories three parts to address the practices of Whiteness in modernist studies Aesthetics Intersectionality and Inter disciplinary Practice We begin with aesthetics because modernism is the aesthetic produced in dynamic relation to the cultural formations of modernity perceived rapid changes in labor transportation technology and perceptions of body mind and even character Essays in this section examine how the production of Whiteness is baked in as a positive value in assessing the value of cultural production The second section focuses on the embodiment of Whiteness primarily through the gendered and racialized female body as a deflating practice that unmarks Whiteness while making it central to cultural crises around morality national borders and futurity The third section considers the tacit prioritization of Whiteness as a positive value through institutional structures and pedagogical practice these case studies ruminate on the generative potential of isolating and marking these effects In each essay scholars examine the stakes of marking Whiteness as a category of analysis distinct from yet wholly imbricated with racial categorization given the potential for reification inherent in all strategies of marking
