Chain Reaction Darrell Scott,Steve Rabey,2001-04-01 Rachel Scott and her killer Eric Harris both talked about starting a chain reaction Eric used violence to kill and destroy at Columbine High School But Rachel chose another path In a personal creed she wrote one month before her death in the Columbine tragedy she explained her conviction that if one person goes out of his or her way to show compassion it will start a world changing chain reaction of kindness For Rachel this was a solemn calling And now her father Darrell Scott is carrying on her crusade by challenging people of all ages to commit themselves to creating a revolution of compassion that can make a real difference in our troubled world Chain Reaction spells out this challenge in compelling detail providing moving examples of practical compassion and giving illustrations from Rachel s life and journals The Five Ways We Grieve Susan A. Berger,2011-03-08 In this new approach to understanding the impact of grief Susan A Berger goes beyond the commonly held theories of stages of grief with a new typology for self awareness and personal growth She offers practical advice for healing from a major loss in this presentation of five basic ways or types of grieving These five types describe how different people respond to a major loss The types are Nomads who have not yet resolved their grief and don't often understand how their loss has affected their lives Memorialists who are committed to preserving the memory of their loved ones by creating concrete memorials and rituals to honor them Normalizers who are committed to re-creating a sense of family and community Activists who focus on helping other people who are dealing with the same disease or issues that caused their loved one's death Seekers who adopt religious philosophical or spiritual beliefs to create meaning in their lives Drawing on research results and anecdotes from working with the bereaved over the past ten years Berger examines how a person's worldview is affected after a major loss According to her findings people experience significant changes in their sense of mortality their values and priorities their perception of and orientation toward time and the manner in which they fit in society The five types of grieving she finds reflect the choices people make in their efforts to adapt to dramatic life changes By identifying with one of the types readers who have suffered a recent loss or whose lives have been shaped by an early loss find ways of understanding the impact of the loss and of living more fully

The Martyrs of Columbine J. Watson, 2003-05-02 On April 20 1999 Eric Harris and Dylan Klebold killed twelve fellow students and one teacher at Columbine High School in Littleton Colorado Two of the victims of the Columbine massacre Cassie Bernall and Rachel Scott reportedly were asked by the gunmen if they believed in God Both supposedly answered Yes and were killed Within days of their death Cassie and Rachel were being hailed as modern day martyrs and are seen by many American evangelicals as the sparks of a religious revival among teenagers Cassie and Rachel as innocents martyred for faith also became useful symbols for those seeking to advance a conservative political agenda and to lay the blame for Columbine at the feet of their liberal opponents According to police investigators however Cassie and Rachel may never have been asked by their killers about God They may have been simply victims of a senseless crime rather than martyrs to a cause The Martyrs of Columbine provides a careful examination of the available evidence and attempts to discover what really occurred Despite these questions the martyr stories continued to be told and the religious and political use of Cassie and Rachel continues The popular significance of the martyrs of Columbine persists and may even be growing How and why is this happening The Martyrs of Columbine is a groundbreaking investigation of what this tragedy has come and will come to mean in American religion politics and culture

Sanctified Aggression Jonneke Bekkenkamp, Yvonne Sherwood, 2004-06-01 Sanctified Aggression allies itself neither with the easy assumption that religions are by definition violent and that only the secular humanist humane can offer a place of refuge from the ravages of religious authority nor with the equally facile opposing view that religion expresses the best of human aspirations and that this best is always capable of diffusing or sublating the worst Rather it works from the premise that biblical Jewish and Christian vocabularies continue to resonate inspire and misfire Some of the essays here explore how these vocabularies and symbols have influenced or resonate with events such as the massacre of Jews in Jedwabne Poland 1941 the Rwandan Massacre 1994 the tragedy at Columbine High School 1999 and the emergence of the Phineas Priesthood of white supremacists in North America Other contributors examine how themes of martyrology sacrifice and the messianic continue to circulate and mutate in literature music drama and film The collective conclusion is that it is not possible to control biblical and religious violence by simply identifying canonical trouble spots then fencing them off with barbed wire or holding peace summits around them Nor is it
