

English III Unit 5 Lesson 6

1. Read the poem and the annotations.

Fragmentation – several images jumping from one thought to another

Inter-textuality – writing another story on the basis of a literary creation

Allegory – describing a subject in a way that represents something abstract

Personified consciousness – feelings experienced by a personified idea

2. What characteristics of literary poetry does the controlling image suggest by Thomas' "Flowers" being "flowers" with "purple" as an adjective? What does the adjective help the controlling image? How has imagery been used most powerfully?

metaphor

3. What characteristics of the literary language movement does this poem, "Flowers," have?

This poem has a negative attitude on life because the speaker says that sometimes he's everything "flowers" are.

4. How does the controlling image of the description of the flower compare to the meaning of the title "Flowers"?

The flower is in full bloom and is "very good." His most dying words are "flowers" and plants that he wishes. This means that controlling image of the speaker are used to represent that like the "flowers."
