

The Resurrection (Matthew 28)

Introduction: 1st of 4

The Discovery of the Tomb

Early on Sunday morning, Mary Magdalene and another Mary went to visit the tomb where Jesus was buried. They found that the huge stone blocking the tomb's entrance had been rolled away. An angel, shining like lightning and dressed in white, was sitting on the stone. The angel announced that Jesus was not with them; He had risen, just as He had promised.

The Angel's Message

The angel told the women not to be afraid because he knew they were looking for Jesus, who had been crucified. He invited them to see where Jesus' body had been laid and then instructed them to go quickly and tell Jesus' disciples that He had risen from the dead. The angel emphasized that Jesus was going ahead of them into Galilee, where they would see Him.

The Women's Response

Filled with amazement and great joy, the women hurried away from the tomb to deliver the angel's message to the disciples. This moment was significant because it showed their immediate faith and obedience to the divine message they had received. Their experience at the tomb transformed their sorrow into joy and their hope into mission.

Jesus Appears to the Women

As the women were on their way to tell the disciples, Jesus met them. He greeted them, and they approached Him, clasping His hand and worshipping Him. Jesus told them, „Do not be afraid. Go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee; there they will see me.” This moment was significant because it underscored the truth of His resurrection.

The Guards' Report

Meanwhile, the guards who had been watching the tomb went to the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had happened. They described the earthquake and the appearance of the angel who rolled away the stone. The guards' testimony added a layer of detail to the events of the resurrection, though it was from a very different perspective.

The Chief Priests' Plot

After hearing the guards' report, the chief priests met with the elders and devised a plan. They gave the soldiers a large sum of money, telling them to say that Jesus' disciples came during the night and stole His body while they were sleeping. This plan was made to prevent the spread of Jesus' resurrection story and to protect their own positions and beliefs.

The Spread of the Resurrection

The women took the money and did as they were instructed. The story was widely spread among the Jews and became a commonly accepted explanation for Jesus' missing body. The chief priests' plot created a counter-narrative to the disciples' proclamation of the resurrection, showing how different groups tried to control the story for their own ends.

Jesus Meets His Disciples

Later, Jesus met with His eleven disciples in Galilee, on a mountain where He had directed them to go. When they saw Him, they worshipped Him, but some still doubted. This meeting was crucial for reaffirming Jesus' relationship with His disciples and for preparing them for the mission He was about to entrust to them.

The Great Commission

During this meeting, Jesus gave His disciples what is known as the Great Commission. He told them, „All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit.” This command set the course for the disciples' future work and the spread of Christianity.

Yahweh Versus Baal

Norman C. Habel, 2018-12-04 Since 1929 scholars have been concerned with the interpretation of certain Canaanite literary materials found at Ras Shamra in North Syria known as Ugarit in ancient times Attention has been paid primarily to certain linguistic and cultural parallels between this corpus of literature and sections of the Old Testament But despite the numerous treatments of the isolated points of contact between Ugaritic and biblical thought one major question has not received an adequate answer How and to what extent are the Ugaritic texts and especially the Baal texts relevant for an appreciation of the fundamentals of the Israelite religion Professor Habel seeks to answer at least part of this question by translating pertinent segments of the Baal texts according to the sequence of G R Driver summarizing their context and considering their import thought sequence and basic ideas in relation to appropriate materials from the early faith of Israel The succinct results of this comparison are provocative to say the least The author begins by isolating the major features of an underlying conflict tradition The conflict between Israel s beliefs and the religious forces of its environment was a vital influence in the formulation of Israel s earliest religious faith and experience The content of this faith as summarized in the concise wording of Exodus 19 3 6 is shown to be virtually identical with that of Israel s earliest poetic heritage where a lively polemic against the Canaanite religious is discernible One of the highlights of Professor Habel s comparison of the Baal texts with Israel s archaic poetic traditions is his contribution to the understanding of Exodus 15 In this connection he discovers a clearly defined sequence of ideas common to certain Baal texts and Exodus 15 1 18 By skillfully utilizing the work of other scholars the author sheds additional light on the polemical and theological import of several passages depicting theophanies of Yahweh A similar evaluation of the relevance of the Ugaritic texts for the cultic practices of Israel is made possible by a sober evaluation of the pertinent texts

But Their Faces Were All Looking Up Eric M. Vanden Eykel,2016-12-01 This study of the Protevangelium of James explores the interrelationship of authors readers texts and meaning Its central aim is to better understand how the process of repetition gave rise to the narratives of the early Christian movement and how that process continued to fuel the creativity and imagination of future generations Divided into three parts Vanden Eykel addresses first specific episodes in the life of the Virgin consisting of Mary s childhood in the Jerusalem temple PJ 7 9 her spinning thread for the temple veil PJ 10 12 and Jesus birth in a cave outside Bethlehem PJ 17 20 The three episodes present a uniform picture of how the reader s discernment of intertexts can generate new layers of meaning and that these layers
