Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics David Block, John Gray, Marnie Holborow, 2013-03-01 This book explores neoliberalism a view of the world that puts the market at its centre from the perspective of applied linguistics Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics argues that while applied linguistics has become more interdisciplinary in orientation it has ignored or downplayed the role of political economy namely the way in which social political and economic factors relate to one another within the context of a capitalist economy The authors take the view that engagement with political economy is central to any fully rounded analysis of language and language related issues in the world today and their collaboration in this volume represents an initial attempt to redress what they perceive to be an imbalance in the field The book begins with a discussion of neoliberalism and an analysis of the ways in which neoliberal ideology impacts on language This is followed by a discussion of how globalization and identity have been conceptualised in applied linguistics in ways which have ignored the political centrality of class a concept which the authors see as integral to their perspective The book concludes with an analysis of the ways in which neoliberal ideology plays out in two key areas of applied linguistics language teaching and language teacher education Neoliberalism and Applied Linguistics is essential reading for advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in applied linguistics English Language Teaching Textbooks N. Harwood, 2013-11-29 English language teaching textbooks or coursebooks play a central role in the life of a classroom This edited volume contains research informed chapters focusing on analysis of textbook content how textbooks are used in the classroom and textbook writers accounts of the materials writing design and publishing process Literacy and the Bilingual Learner Catherine Wallace, 2013-10-30 Literacy and the Bilingual Learner explores the literacy development of bilingual learners in London UK schools and colleges through a series of vignettes and case studies of learners and their educational experiences

The Multilingual Turn Stephen May,2013-07-24 Drawing on the latest developments in bilingual and multilingual research The Multilingual Turn offers a critique of and alternative to still dominant monolingual theories pedagogies and practices in SLA TESOL and bilingual education Critics of the monolingual bias argue that notions such as the idealized native speaker and related concepts of interlanguage language competence and fossilization have framed these fields inextricably in relation to monolingual speaker norms In contrast these critics advocate an approach that emphasizes the multiple competencies of bi multilingual learners as the basis for successful language teaching and learning This volume takes a big step forward in re situating the issue of multilingualism more centrally in applied linguistics and in so doing making more permeable its key sub disciplinary boundaries particularly those between SLA TESOL and bilingual education It addresses this issue head on bringing together key international scholars in SLA TESOL and bilingual education to explore from cutting edge interdisciplinary perspectives what a more critical multilingual perspective might mean for theory pedagogy and practice in each of these fields The Embodied Work of Teaching Joan Kelly Hall, Stephen Daniel Looney, 2019-09-16 The chapters in this volume build on a growing body of ethnomethodological conversation analytic research on teaching in order to enhance our empirical understandings of teaching as embodied contingent and jointly achieved with students in the complex management of various courses of action and larger instructional projects Together the chapters document the embodied accomplishment of teaching by identifying specific resources that teachers use to manage instructional projects demonstrate that teaching entails both alignment and affiliation work and show the significance of using high quality audiovisual data to document the sophisticated work of teaching By providing analytic insight into the highly specialized work of teaching the studies make a significant contribution to a practice based understanding of how the life of the classroom as lived by its members is accomplished The Construction of English J. Gray, 2010-09-29 This book takes the view that ELT global coursebooks in addition to being curriculum artefacts are also highly wrought cultural artefacts which seek to make English mean in highly selective ways and it argues that the textual construction and imaging of English parallels the processes of commodity promotion more generally Critical Perspectives on Language Teaching Materials J. Gray, 2013-11-27 This Critical Perspectives on Language Teaching Materials brings together a collection of critical voices on the subject of language teaching materials for use in English French Spanish German and Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL classrooms The Handbook of Language Teaching Michael H. Long, Catherine J. Doughty, 2011-08-15 Bringing together an international and interdisciplinary team of contributors this Handbook is a wide ranging and invaluable reference guide to language teaching A comprehensive reference work on language teaching which combines the latest research findings coverage of core topics and examples of teaching experience from a variety of languages and settings Provides a unique breadth of coverage including the psycholinguistic underpinnings of language learning social political and educational contexts program design materials writing and course design teaching and testing teacher education and assessment and evaluation Offers a balanced evaluation of the major positions and approaches including examining the increasingly important social and political context of language teaching Written by an international and interdisciplinary group of authors from a dozen different countries English is only one of the many languages used as examples throughout the volume Plurilingualism María Pilar Díez Martínez, Rebecca Place, 2012-12-31 The 2012 TESOL SPAIN Convention held at the University of Deusto produced a number of relevant papers and presentations compiled in this book The different papers deal with issues of concern for those teaching both English and in English and show the progress made in this field to date The authors are both national and international and their works tackle aspects such as motivation new methodologies new testing procedures and so forth

Language Acquisition and Development Brian Tomlinson, 2007-04-01 Examines language acquisition and development across a wide range of languages and contexts

Contextual English , Education and Society in the Middle East and North Africa Milton George, S. Sergio Saleem Scatolini, 2020-01-17 In the past the Middle East and the so called Muslim world used to be beacons of learning and critical thought Although historical variables such as conquest internal conflict and colonization demoted their position on the global stage changes are now in the offing In these interesting times a growing number of educators thinkers and visionaries are trying both to find and to generate new approaches to the past present and future of the region This book is a collection of articles which reflect on various aspects related to education and society in the Middle East and North Africa also known as the MENA region their peoples and educational processes It provides a platform for people to join the global conversation and to contribute to it with data which are relevant to regional concerns research and practices This is necessary because many of the theories and research findings which are still being used to understand the region were generated elsewhere and despite their lack of regional representativeness were generalized as the most trustworthy interpretive tools across the world Hence there is a need for the world to open up to the voices from the MENA region
