QUESTION 3

- 3.1 Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow.

Peat lands are special wetlands that play a very important role in ecology. A peat land, of approximately 6 000 years old, near Mafeking is almost destroyed because of excessive extraction of water from the nearby Molopo river. The water is extracted for human consumption.

Peat lands like the one near Mafeking is exceptional and play an important role in storing water as well as preventing climate changes.

Dr Phil-Louis Grundling said that carbon that is 'held' or 'stored' by peat lands combats climate change because it decreases the amount of carbon in the atmosphere.

Peat lands trap about one third of the world's carbon. Approximately 50% of wetlands worldwide are peat lands. However in South Africa about 10% of the wetlands are peat lands.

Grundling explained that peat lands can hold about 1 000 times its own mass in water. This replenishes the water table and is the source that keeps streams flowing. The "sponge effect" of the peat also makes it possible to store water that is then released during dry seasons.

Dr Grundling said that it might be too late to restore the peat land near Mafeking but it might be possible to restore some parts of it if more water is supplied to this peat land.

The result of this destruction is depletion of the water table. The habitat of numerous fish and frog species that lived in this peat land was also destroyed.

From: Beeld: 24 September 2016.

- 3.1.1 Give TWO other reasons (not mentioned in the passage) that can lead to the destruction of wetlands. (2)
- 3.1.2 Discuss reasons from the passage regarding the importance of these specific wetlands for the environment. (4)
- 3.1.3 Suggest a way in which this peat land near Mafeking can be restored. (2)

The Routledge Handbook of Biopolitics Sergei Prozorov, Simona Rentea, 2016-08-05 The problematic of biopolitics has become increasingly important in the social sciences Inaugurated by Michel Foucault's genealogical research on the governance of sexuality crime and mental illness in modern Europe the research on biopolitics has developed into a broader interdisciplinary orientation addressing the rationalities of power over living beings in diverse spatial and temporal contexts The development of the research on biopolitics in recent years has been characterized by two tendencies the increasingly sophisticated theoretical engagement with the idea of power over and the government of life that both elaborated and challenged the Foucauldian canon e.g. the work of Giorgio Agamben Antonio Negri Roberto Esposito and Paolo Virno and the detailed and empirically rich investigation of the concrete aspects of the government of life in contemporary societies Unfortunately the two tendencies have often developed in isolation from each other resulting in the presence of at least two debates on biopolitics the historico-philosophical and the empirical one This Handbook brings these two debates together combining theoretical sophistication and empirical rigour The volume is divided into five sections While the first two deal with the history of the concept and contemporary theoretical debates on it the remaining three comprise the prime sites of contemporary interdisciplinary research on biopolitics economy security and technology Featuring previously unpublished articles by the leading scholars in the field this wide ranging and accessible companion will both serve as an introduction to the diverse research on biopolitics for undergraduate students and appeal to more advanced audiences interested in the current state of the art in biopolitics studies
