The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The world's agrifood systems stand at a crossroads With 1.3 billion youth globally the future of food livelihoods and economic resilience depends on their participation in agrifood systems At the same time agrifood systems need youth to drive productivity innovation and sustainability in a crucial and rapidly evolving sector FAO's The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems report is a call to action It presents the most comprehensive evidence based analysis of youth in agrifood systems to date highlighting both the opportunities and structural barriers that shape their engagement It explores how transforming agrifood systems can enhance decent job opportunities and food security for youth and how empowered youth can drive this transformation It concludes highlighting policy recommendations and areas of investments to foster more equitable and sustainable agrifood systems where rural youth are both beneficiaries and leaders of change

Higher Expectations Derek Bok,2022-05-17 How our colleges and universities can respond to the changing hopes and needs of society In recent decades cognitive psychologists have cast new light on human development and given colleges new possibilities for helping students acquire skills and qualities that will enhance their lives and increase their contributions to society In this landmark book Derek Bok explores how colleges can reap the benefits of these discoveries and create a more robust undergraduate curriculum for the twenty first century Prior to this century most psychologists thought that creativity empathy resilience conscientiousness and most personality traits were largely fixed by early childhood What researchers have now discovered is that virtually all of these qualities continue to change through early adulthood and often well beyond Such findings suggest that educators may be able to do much more than was previously thought possible to teach students to develop these important characteristics and thereby enable them to flourish in later life How prepared are educators to cultivate these qualities of mind and behavior What do they need to learn to capitalize on the possibilities Will college faculties embrace these opportunities and make the necessary changes in their curricula and teaching methods What can be done to hasten the process of innovation and application In providing answers to these questions Bok identifies the hurdles to institutional change proposes sensible reforms and demonstrates how our colleges can help students lead more successful productive and meaningful lives

A Fight for the Soul of Public Education Steven Ashby,Robert Bruno,2016-11-04 In reaction to the changes imposed on public schools across the country in the name of education reform the Chicago Teachers Union redefined its traditional role and waged a multidimensional fight that produced a community wide school strike and transformed the scope of collective bargaining into arenas that few labor relations experts thought possible Using interviews first person accounts participant observation union documents and media reports Steven K Ashby and Robert Bruno tell the story of the 2012 strike that shut down the Chicago school system for seven days A Fight for the Soul of Public Education takes into account two overlapping parallel and equally important stories One is a grassroots story of worker activism told from the perspective of rank and file union members and their community supporters Ashby and Bruno provide a detailed account of how the strike became an international cause when other teachers unions had largely surrendered to corporate driven education reform The second story describes the role of state and national politics in imposing educational governance changes on public schools and draconian limitations on union bargaining rights It includes a detailed account of the actual bargaining process revealing the mundane and the transcendental strategies of both school board and union representatives

The Opportunity Equation Eric Schwarz,2014-09-02 Schwarz founder of the groundbreaking Citizen Schools program shares his vision for reducing inequality by pairing successful adults with low income students Parental wealth now predicts adult success more than at any point in the last hundred years And yet as debates about education rage on and wealth based achievement gaps grow too many people fix the blame on one of two convenient scapegoats poverty or our public schools But in fact low income kids are learning more now than ever before The real culprit for rising inequality Eric Schwarz argues in The Opportunity Equation is that wealthier kids are learning much much more mostly outside of school In summer camps robotics competitions sessions with private tutors and conversations around the dinner table children from more affluent families build the skills and social networks that propel them to success In The Opportunity Equation Schwarz tells the story of how he founded the pioneering Citizen Schools program to combat rising inequality by bringing these same opportunities to children who don t have access to them

By increasing learning time in schools and harnessing the power of an army of volunteers with various skills and professional backgrounds lawyers engineers carpenters journalists nonprofit leaders and grandmothers who sew Citizen Schools offers after school apprenticeships that provide the building blocks for adult success Recounting the triumphs and setbacks he s encountered in implementing the program Schwarz shows that some of the nation s lowest performing schools in its lowest income cities can with help provide their students with many of the same experiences wealthy communities afford to their children The results have been proven in the dozen school districts from New York to Oakland that have partnered with Citizen Schools rates of attendance proficiency graduation and college acceptance have gone up and the achievement gap closes At a time when many stakeholders in the education debates are looking for new silver bullet shortcuts to educational excellence Schwarz shows that the best solution is human centered rooted in the American tradition of citizen voluntarism and most important achievable We can provide quality education for all students and close the opportunity gap in this country and we can do it together

Nelson Goodman Daniel Cohnitz, Marcus Rossberg, 2014-12-18 Nelson Goodman s acceptance and critique of certain methods and tenets of positivism his defence of nominalism and phenomenalism his formulation of a new riddle of induction his work on notational systems and his analysis of the arts place him at the forefront of the history and development of American philosophy in the twentieth century However outside of America Goodman has been a rather neglected figure In this first book length introduction to his work Cohnitz and Rossberg assess Goodman s lasting contribution to philosophy and show that although some of his views may be now considered unfashionable or unorthodox there is much in Goodman s work that is of significance today The book begins with the grue paradox which exemplifies Goodman s way of dealing with philosophical problems After this the unifying features of Goodman s philosophy are presented his constructivism conventionalism and relativism followed by an discussion of his central work The Structure of Appearance and its significance in the analytic tradition The following chapters present the technical apparatus that underlies his philosophy his mereology and semiotics which provides the background for discussion of Goodman s aesthetics The final chapter examines in greater depth the presuppositions underlying his philosophy
