

Optics - The Study of Light

Refraction

Light refracts when passing between two substances at an angle.

Light does not bend as glass that is not yet within water. Bending begins as light enters the water.

Light travels faster in water than in air, so it bends towards the normal as it enters the water.

The refractive index (n) is a measure of how much light bends in a medium.

Reflection

Light reflects off a surface at the same angle.

Normal - an imaginary line 90° perpendicular to a surface.

Angle of Incidence - the angle between the incident ray and the normal.

Angle of Reflection - the angle between the reflected ray and the normal.

Focus

Point at which light rays converge after reflection from a curved surface. Focus is the point where light rays meet.

Concave Mirrors

Concave mirrors focus light rays to a point. They are used in telescopes, headlights, and satellite dishes.

Convex Mirrors

Convex mirrors diverge light rays. They are used in security mirrors and side-view mirrors.

The image is virtual, upright, and smaller than the object.

Lenses

Lenses refract light rays to form images. They are used in eyeglasses, cameras, and microscopes.

A converging lens focuses light.

A diverging lens spreads light.

A concave lens diverges light.

A concave lens is divergent. The light rays spread apart.

Image is virtual and upright.

Concave and convex lenses depend on their shape. If a lens is thicker in the middle, it's a converging lens. If it's thinner in the middle, it's a diverging lens.

Concave Lenses

Optical Systems

Optical systems use multiple lenses to focus light. They are used in cameras, microscopes, and telescopes.

Images

Images are formed by light rays. They can be real or virtual, upright or inverted, and magnified or reduced.

Ex. The image height (h_i) is 10 cm. The object height (h_o) is 5 cm. What is the magnification (M)?

A virtual image is upright.

A virtual image is upright.

A virtual image is magnified.

A virtual image is upright.
