Correcting Fallacies about Educational and Psychological Testing Richard P. Phelps, 2009 Standardized testing is used for diagnosis selection and achievement measurement by individuals in many fields including psychology education employment and professional credentialing Its benefits are numerous substantial and scientifically proven However these benefits are not well articulated or well publicized In their technical communications measurement specialists are generally positive about the worth of standardized testing Meanwhile those who engage public debate such as journalists and certain special interest groups tend to be less scientifically informed and more negative about the value of testing The contributors to this volume contend that most criticisms ignore readily accessible scientific evidence and have the unfortunate effect of discrediting the entire testing enterprise Standardized testing bears the twin burden of controversy and complexity and is difficult for many to understand either dispassionately or technically In response to this reality Richard P Phelps and a team of well noted measurement specialists present this book as a platform where they describe the current state of public debate about testing across fields explain and refute the primary criticisms of testing acknowledge the limitations and undesirable consequences of testing provide suggestions for improving testing practices and present a vigorous defense of testing and practical vision for its promise and future Those who are charged with translating the science of testing into public information and policy including administrators social scientists test publishers professors and journalists who specialize in education and psychology should find a wealth of usable information here with which to balance the debate      Changing Teaching And Learning In The

Lissitz, 2017-06-01 The new generation of tests is faced with new challenges In the K 12 setting the new learning targets are intended to assess higher order thinking skills and prepare students to be ready for college and career and to keep American students competitive with their international peers In addition the new generation of state tests requires the use of technology in item delivery and embedding assessment in real world authentic situations It further requires accurate assessment of students at all ability levels One of the most important questions is how to maintain test fairness in the new assessments with technology innovative items and technology delivered tests In the traditional testing programs such as licensure and certification tests and college admission tests test fairness has constantly been a key psychometric issue in test development and this continues to be the case with the national testing programs As test fairness needs to be addressed throughout the whole process of test development experts from state admission and licensure tests will address test fairness challenges in the new generation assessment The book chapters clarify misconceptions of test fairness including the use of admission test results in cohort comparison the use of international assessment results in trend evaluation whether standardization and fairness necessarily mean uniformity when test takers have different cultural backgrounds and whether standardization can insure fairness More technically chapters also address issues related to how compromised items and test fairness are related to classification decisions how accessibility in item development and accommodation could be mingled with technology how to assess special populations with dyslexia using Blinder Oaxaca Decomposition for differential item functioning detection and differential feature functioning in automated scoring Overall this book addresses test fairness issues in state assessment college admission testing international assessment and licensure tests Fairness is discussed in the context of culture and special populations Further fairness related to performance assessment and automated scoring is a focus as well This book provides a very good source of information related to test fairness issues in test development in the new generation of assessment where technology is highly involved
