

Q8. Discuss the various processes of decolonization that took place in Africa.

Answer

Decolonization is the process of Africans' struggles to uproot colonialism and end foreign rule, either through constitutional means or armed struggle. Decolonization started immediately after the imposition of colonial rule through African resistance with its turning point coming soon after the Second World War.

Factors That Determined the Form of Decolonization

- Basically it depended on the nature of the colonial economy i.e. whether it was settler, mixed or peasant oriented.
- Depended on the economic and political position of the colonial power. For example, the case of settlers in Zimbabwe and Kenya needed a sustained guerrilla warfare.
- Depended on the attitude of the colonial power. In Mozambique and Angola where they were regarded as extension of Portugal abroad, a long, drawn out guerilla war was necessary.
- The structure/nature of African societies – the level of development reached, whether they were collaborative, weak, strong, etc.

Forms

- Mass political organization – open legalized political parties, struggling to achieve independence constitutionally as in the case of Tanzania and Ghana.
- Underground movement as in the case of the initial struggle in Kenya under the Mau Mau.
- Armed struggle – where there was settler colonialist dominated economy, like in Zimbabwe, Namibia, Algeria and the Portuguese African colonies of, Angola, Mozambique and Guinea Bissau.
- Ethnically dominated politics where Africans were divided along ethnic or regional lines and were likely to result in civil strife or even a revolution as in the case of Uganda, Zaire, Nigeria, Zanzibar, Rwanda, Burundi, etc.

Q9. Early contacts between Africa and outsiders facilitated the underdevelopment of the African continent. Evaluate the truth of this statement.

Answer

- Say something about early contact.
- Periodise these events.
- Name the key participants.

Africa, especially the coastal parts of Africa, began to have contact with the outside world even before the birth of Christ. Early visitors to Africa included the Indians, Chinese, Indonesians, etc. To the early visitors, the East African Coast was known as Azania and to the Arabs it was known as the land of the Zanj (blacks). These early visitors to East Africa and the rest of the outside world came mainly because of trade. However this trade was not conducted on an equal footing because what the African population gave the visitors far exceeded in value what they got from the visitors. For example, Africa provided ivory, tortoise shells, rhino horns, gold, copper, animal skins, etc. In return Africa obtained articles like glass vessels, beads, alcohol, cloth, guns, etc.

Another group of visitors to Africa were the Europeans, in particular the Portuguese who were the first to come into contact with the people on the coast. They came after Vasco da Gama's journey to India.

Factors That Caused Under Development of African Continent

- Unequal exchange i.e. they exported valuable goods from Africa but they imported valueless goods to Africa.
- Slave trade that caused:
  - Depopulation.
  - Famine and decline in production.
  - Civil war.
- Technological stagnation
- Decline of traditional industries and internal trade such as trans Saharan trade.
- Source of colonialism in Africa (name the effects)

Other effects:

- Disruption of culture and traditional life.
- Social and economic decline of some states.

Why Regional Tier Form of Decentralization Governance's Implementation Is a Preliquist for Uganda's Better Service Delivery of 21st Century Deo Rwangoga, The book looks at Decentralization governance of president Museveni era that was registered in Uganda of the local government status 1987 resistance councils status 1993 as well as into the 1995 constitution operationalized by the local government act 1997 that devolved legislative fiscal planning budgeting functions to districts Municipal councils as well as their lower tier levels whose idea was to involve the people in a way they were governed the dream that have not been achieved looking at what the cries of people are as expressed in all sectors This book analyses Decentralization from 1997 to 2019 and deduces that the first phrase of it 10 years that is up to 2005 was a success that time the district were 69 in number but beyond that time it was not at all and up to now as it is continuously becoming harder to manage those very many administrative units that jumped from just 39 districts in 1991 to 134 Districts in 2020 as well as municipalities created alongside districts that now stand at 41 2018 all contributing to formation of a Member of Parliament that total to 459 MPs 2018 All this has led Uganda to have a very poor governance system as even primary sectors of health education agriculture and economy are in a dilemma state leave alone local revenue collections that are directed from source to Centre before expenditure and the districts have to request back to do any activity including emergencies like garbage management repairs and salaries making services delivery impossible to be efficient and effective in all ways at these levels The book is based on secondary data that reported on governance issues of the day as written in Ugandan media that were people s feelings as issues of the time as well some Journals observations and interviews The book introduces decentralization governance of Uganda identifies current state of affairs of service delivery presents why there was need for many new administrative units and their state now looks at history of parliament feudalism identifies lost pride of Ugandans proposes what regional tier governance can address as well as linking the past with today s Ugandan governance Finally the book proposes prerequisite regional tier power centres relevant to today s Uganda and concludes with models that can help us achieve vision 2040 and therefore proposes immediate need to implement regional tier governance that will establish all three arms of government at regional centres of Uganda remember it was agreed to be implemented by those that deemed it under article 178 3 It is apparent that all regions should therefore implement it as a solution to service delivery that is very poor now
