Topic: Business | Words: 1680 | Pages: 7

Porter's Five Forces model is one of the most effective tools for analyzing the business environment. Simple but powerful, the model is used in a wide variety of industries.

Do you want to figure out the principle of the model operation? Check out the following essay on analyzing Porter's Five Forces on beer industry.

Introduction

The principal aim of any company is to make a profit. Therefore, an effective strategy for influencing a target audience plays a crucial role.

In a modern competitive business environment, changes occur at an extremely fast rate. Thus, maintaining business on an operatable level is a challenging task. The 5 forces model is a helpful tool in dealing with potential threats. It is useful for increasing profits and gaining a competitive advantage as well.

Porter's model includes five elements. They are the threat of new entrants, the threat of substitutes, the bargaining power of suppliers, the bargaining power of buyers, and competitive rivalry. The precise analysis of these elements is vital for any business. The brewery industry is not an exception. The following paper will examine the implementation of the 5 forces model on beer companies.
