Shedding light on how successfully service learning has been adopted to the existing curriculum and the emergence of a new breed of students who are aligned with the needs of the community and undertake collaborative work to solve real world issues Volume 47 is invaluable to both researchers teachers and scholars      AIMING FOR THE STARS Dr Sphumelele Ndlovu, 2018-07-13 AIMING FOR THE STARS is a memoir of Dr Sphumelele Ndlovu and his life of hardship which led him to becoming a Scientist His mother sold chickens to provide for her children never considering himself worse off than others The family was poor Sphumelele s life was also derailed when strikes caused 24 out of the 28 teachers at his school to abandon their posts in his matric year Education was Ndlovu's ticket to a better future and he knew at a young age that he wasn't going to give it up without a fight Ndlovu's PhD placed him to be part of a team of scientists set out to measure the distance between the Earth and Moon using lasers It is the sixth ever such venture but the first to be carried out by an African team A man whose horizon was once confined to the perimeter of a chicken coop now handled tools that allowed his eyes to glide over galaxies

The Changing Face of Colonial Education in Africa Peter Kallaway, 2021-07-29 The Changing Face of Colonial Education in Africa offers a detailed and nuanced perspective of colonial history based on 15 years of research that throws fresh light on the complexities of African history and the colonial world of the first half of the twentieth century It provides an analytical background to the history of education in the colonial context by balancing contributions by missionary agencies colonial government humanitarian agencies scientific experts and African agents It offers a foundation for the analysis of modern educational policy for the postcolonial state It attempts to move beyond clichés about colonial education to an understanding of the complexities of how educational policy was developed in different places at different times while giving credence to arguments that see schooling as a form of social control in the colonial environment It is essential reading for academics researchers and policymakers looking to better understand colonial education and contextualize modern developments related to the decolonizing African education It is intended to provide an essential background for policy makers by demonstrating the significance of a historical perspective for an understanding of contemporary educational challenges in Africa and elsewhere

Race, Racism, and International Law Devon W. Carbado, Kimberlé Williams Crenshaw, Justin Desautels-Stein, Chantal Thomas, 2025-08-19 What would it look like to place race at the center of international legal scholarship From its inception in the 70s and 80s critical race theory's target was the field of law revealing it to be a repository for racial power This particular critique of law was explosive because of law's putatively apolitical status making it a unique site for an intellectual sit in that has forever changed the way that race and racism are understood in American society Several decades later as indicators of populism and white nationalism spread across North America and Europe critical race theory remains markedly absent from discourses in global affairs and international law This volume opens the door for CRT to enter the international sphere Featuring contributions from 30 of today's leading scholars from around the world Race Racism and International Law explains how the concept of racial difference sits at the foundation of the legal political and social structures of hierarchy that shape the contemporary global order Helmed by four pioneering experts two in CRT and two in international law the volume's approach targets regimes of power and violence that implicate racism capitalism and colonialism This volume lays the groundwork for urgent and provocative new modes of critique and analysis
