A Life Beyond Reason Chris Gabbard, 2019-05-28 An unflinching and luminous memoir that explores a father's philosophical transformation when he must reconsider the questions what makes us human and whose life is worth living Before becoming a father Chris Gabbard was a fast track academic finishing his doctoral dissertation at Stanford A disciple of Enlightenment thinkers he was a devotee of reason believed in the reliability of science and lived by the dictum that an unexamined life is not worth living That is until his son August was born Despite his faith that modern medicine would not fail him August was born with a severe traumatic brain injury as a likely result of medical error and lived as a spastic quadriplegic who was cortically blind profoundly cognitively impaired and nonverbal While Gabbard tried to uncover what went wrong during the birth and adjusted to his new role raising a child with multiple disabilities he began to rethink his commitment to Enlightenment thinkers who would have concluded that his son was doomed to a life of suffering But August was a happy child who brought joy to just about everyone he met in his 14 years of life and opened up Gabbard's capacity to love Ultimately he comes to understand that his son is undeniably a person deserving of life A Life Beyond Reason will challenge readers to reexamine their beliefs about who is deserving of humanity material of the work of repair anchors ordinary scenes of living and working in and around the plantations As a space of exploitation that enables the global paper and packaging industry to extract labor power the plantation depends on the availability of creative action in ordinary life to capitalize on bodily capacity The Work of Repair is a fine grained exploration of the relationships between laborers in the timber plantations of KwaZulu Natal and the historical decompositions and reinventions of the milieu of those livelihoods and lives Offering a fresh approach to the existential ethical and political stakes of ethnography from and of late liberal South Africa the book attends to urgent questions of postapartheid life the fate of employment the role of the state in providing welfare and access to treatment the regulation of popular curatives the queering of kinship and the future of custom and its territories Through detailed descriptions Cousins explicates the important and fragile techniques that constitute the work of repair the effort to augment one's capacity in a way that draws on acknowledges and reimagines the wounds of history keeping open the possibility of a future through and with others
