Finding the Plot Loïc Artiago, Diana Holmes, David Platten, 2014-08-11 Plot writes Peter Brooks is so basic to our very experience of reading and indeed to our articulation of experience in general that criticism has often passed it over in silence Reading for the Plot xi Finding the Plot both explores and helps to redress this critical neglect The book brings together an international group of scholars to address the nature effects and specific pleasures of consuming stories If the central focus is on France and popular literary fiction the book's scope like contemporary fiction itself observes no national frontiers and extends across a variety of media The book addresses both the empirical question of which genres and types of text have been and are most popular and the theoretical questions of how plots work what pleasures they offer to readers and why it matters that the plot should not be lost

Proust and Joyce in Dialogue Sarah Tribout-Joseph, 2017-07-05 It might reasonably be asked what the connection is between Françoise's malapropisms in Proust and the erudite allusions of Stephen's interior monologue in Joyce Tribout-Joseph argues that they are indeed interrelated Proust and Joyce are exemplary of Modernism's reconciliation of high literature with popular voices Both writers explore the process of incorporation the interface between speech and narrative Fragments of discourse are taken from diverse sources and reoriented within new contexts Proposed here are interconnected close readings of socio-political debate body talk listening processes silences intertextual echoes cliché register conflated voices chatter gossip eavesdropping internalized debate and misunderstandings which allow for a new configuration of the authors to emerge

About Love Vaniliane, The Conscience of Humankind, 2021-11-22 The traumatic experiences of persecution and genocide have changed traditional views of literature The discussion of historical truth versus aesthetic autonomy takes an unexpected turn when confronted with the experiences of the victims of the Holocaust the Gulag Archipelago the Cultural Revolution Apartheid and other crimes against humanity The question is whether and if so to what extent literary imagination may depart from historical truth In general the first reactions to traumatic historical experiences are autobiographical statements written by witnesses of the events However the second and third generations the sons and daughters of the victims as well as of the victimizers tend to free themselves from this generic restriction and claim their own way of remembering the history of their parents and grandparents They explore their own limits of representation and feel free to use a variety of genres they turn to either realist or postmodernist ironic or grotesque modes of writing

Surviving with Dignity Scott M. Youngstedt, 2013

Surviving with Dignity explores three key interconnected themes structural violence suffering and surviving with dignity through examining the lived experiences of first and second generation migrant Hausa men in Niamey over the past two decades in the current neoliberal moment Colonialism state mismanagement structural adjustment and global neoliberalism have inflicted structural violence on Nigeriens by denying them human and particularly socioeconomic rights and relegating them to a status at or very near the bottom of UN Human Development Index in each year of the past decade As a result of structural violence most Hausa of Niamey suffer grinding and intractable poverty that has intensified over the past two decades Suffering is a recurrent and expected condition it is the normal condition The central goal of the book is to explain the material migration and informal economy work and symbolic meaning making strategies that Hausa individuals and communities have deployed in their struggles not only to literally survive in the face of economic austerity on the outer periphery of the global economy but also to survive with dignity Despite daunting challenges many Hausa men find strength and patience in their humble devotion to Islam cherish their vibrant sociability and gracious hospitality deeply value extraordinary conversational virtuosity and knowledge deploy humor in complex transcendent defensive and self critical ways perpetuate a sense of hope and optimism for the future articulate their own modernities and strive relentlessly to feel connected to the modern world at large Extreme poverty created by socioeconomic injustice constitutes an unacceptable assault on human dignity Hausa men s remarkable strength does not negate the reality of the socioeconomic injustices they face Their dire poverty in a world of plenty is unacceptable even when they handle it gracefully

The new pornographies Victoria Best,Martin Crowley,2021-06-15 The turn of the twenty first century has witnessed the striking advance of pornography into the Western cultural mainstream Symptomatic of this development has been the use by writers artists and film makers of the imagery and aesthetics of pornography in works which have often on this basis achieved considerable international success Amongst these artists are a number of French authors and directors such as Michel Houellebecq Catherine Breillat Virginie Despentes or Catherine Millet whose work has often been dismissed as trashy or exploitative but whose use of pornographic material may in fact be indicative of important contemporary concerns In this study of a very significant trend the authors explore how the reference to pornography encodes diverse political cultural and existential questions including relations between the sexes the collapse of avant garde politics gay sexualities in the time of AIDS the anti feminist backlash the relation to the body and illness the place of fantasy and the sexualisation of children It will be of interest to undergraduates graduates and researchers in the fields of French culture gender film and media studies

Interfaces Between the Oral and the Written Flora Veit-Wild,Alain Ricard,2005 In the African context there exists the myth that orality means tradition Written and oral verbal art are often regarded as dichotomies one excluding the other While orature is confused with tradition literature is ascribed to modernity Furthermore local languages are ignored and literature is equated with writing in foreign languages The contributions in this volume take issue with such preconceptions and explore the multiple ways in which literary and oral forms interrelate and subvert each other giving birth to new forms of artistic expression They emphasize the local agency of the African poet and writer which resists the global commodification of literature through the international bestseller lists of the cultural industry The first section traces the movement from oral to written texts which in many cases coincides with a switch from African to European languages But as the essays in the section on New Literary Languages make clear in other cases a true philological work is accomplished in the African language to create a new written and literary medium Through the mixing of languages in the cities such as the Sheng spoken in Kenya or the bilinguality of a writer such as Cheik Aliou Ndao Senegal new idioms for literary expressions evolve The use of new media technology or music stimulate the emergence of new genres such as Taarab in East Africa radio poetry in Yoruba and Hausa or Rap in the Senegal as is shown in the section on Forms of New Orality It is a great achievement of this second volume of Versions and Subversions in African Literatures that it assembles contributions by scholars from the anglophone and the francophone world and that it covers literary production in a broad spectrum of languages English French Hausa Sheng Sotho Spanish Swahili Wolof and Yoruba Some of the authors and cultural practitioners treated in detail are Mobolajii Adenubi Birago Diop Boubacar Boris Diop David Maillu Thomas Mofolo Cheik Aliou Ndao Donato Ndongo Bidyogo Hubert Ogunde Shaaban Robert Wole Soyinka Ibrahim YaroYahaya and S nouvo Agbota Zinsou
