

Guide to Documentary Credits

The Certificate for Documentary Credit Specialist (CCDCS) is a professional qualification that is recognised worldwide as a benchmark of competence for international practitioners.

It enables documentary credit practitioners to demonstrate the specialist knowledge and skills needed to perform effectively in a fast-paced international international trade environment.

CCDCS was developed in partnership by The London Institute of Banking & Finance (LInB) Germany Branch and the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC). It has been designed in consultation with industry experts to ensure that the Certificate reflects best international practice.

The Certificate for Documentary Credit Specialist is a Level 4 qualification registered with England's qualification regulator (Ofqual) in the Regulated Qualification Framework (RQF).

The London Institute of Banking & Finance

We exist for a very simple reason - to advance banking and finance by providing outstanding education and training, tailored to the needs of business, individuals, and society.

Our focus is on lifelong learning - equipping individuals with the knowledge, skills and qualifications to achieve what they want throughout their career and life.

We provide a balance of experiential, insight and thought leadership into today's financial world, delivered by industry leaders, thinkers and members of our community.

And because we've been at the heart of the sector since 1879, we create connections and build partnerships between people and business that make banking and finance more accessible and understood, and enhance social inclusion through better financial capability.

We are The London Institute of Banking & Finance, lifelong partners for financial education.

International Chamber of Commerce (ICC)

ICC is the world business organisation, a representative body that speaks with authority on behalf of enterprises from all sectors in every part of the world. The ICC Banking Commission is the world's essential rule-making body for the banking industry. With 80 years of experience and more than 600 members in 100 countries, the ICC Banking Commission has rightly gained a reputation as the most authoritative voice in the field of trade finance. The Commission produces universally accepted rules and guidelines for international banking practice.

It provides specialised training and certification in international trade finance as well as bi-annual summer gatherings for the trade finance community. The ICC Banking Commission is the industry's most reputable and reliable source of guidance to bankers and industry practitioners.

Buljevich, Yoon S. Park, 2007-08-27 Since the 1970s the practice of financing major private and public sector capital intensive projects has shifted to an ever greater reliance on private funding sources as opposed to direct financing through the issuance of corporate or government bonds In the 1990s these financing practices have undergone further changes with the increasing globalization of capital markets the growth of derivative instruments and the rapid increase in information technology that enhances cash management practices Today s project financing market is increasingly using sophisticated capital market bank and agency financing mechanisms as well as using derivative instruments for asset and liability management Thus financial market innovations are bringing the once separate fields of project financing and international finance more closely together This is the first book to treat both topics as an interrelated whole for contemporary project financing cannot be fully understood without a good working knowledge of the international financial markets that have developed the various financing techniques and funding sources being used. The book provides an in depth description of cross border project financing as a technique for financing capital intensive projects as well as an overview of certain financing and derivative instruments currently available in the global financial markets. The first part of the book provides an overview of certain funding and derivative instruments currently used in the international financial markets including a general overview of financial innovations that have occurred in recent decades. Topics covered include an introduction to the syndicated Euro credit market, an overview of various marketable debt securities actively used in the international financial markets, an introduction to depositary receipt as an innovative way of raising cross border equity capital, an elaboration of the derivative instruments most commonly used in the project financing arena including interest rate, currency and commodity swaps, and finally an overview of banks off balance sheet activities as a critical driving force for the participation of banks in the international financial and derivative markets. The second part of the book provides an in depth analysis of project financing that concentrates on the financier's perspective. Topics covered include a general overview of the project financing industry, a step by step description of a typical cross border project finance transaction, a description of the main characteristics and advantages of project financing as opposed to more traditional corporate lending practices, an overview of appraisal techniques for assessing project financing, a comprehensive analysis of the different risk management techniques used in project financing for reducing, distributing and hedging risks, and a brief overview of certain limited resource financing schemes. The book includes a special focus on the various stages of the risk management process for project financing, elaborating on the different stages of risk identification, risk assessment, risk reduction, risk distribution and hedging and insurance. The authors also provide a comprehensive glossary of terms relating to international finance and project financing. This book will fulfill the need for an essential text on project financing as well as a professional reference guide.
