Conflict Michelle J. Bellino, James H. Williams, 2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex inter relationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces Oral Literature for Children Aaron

Mushengyezi, 2013 This book is the first ever major effort to document and study hundreds of texts from an African Ugandan oral culture for children folktales riddles and rhymes and at the same time to make them available in the local Languages and to focus on their cultural and national value The author surveys the history of collecting in Uganda and situates the texts in their broader geographical historical socio cultural and educational Setting including the early collecting efforts of heritage minded Ugandans and European missionaries Most of this preservational work is elusive and under explored so that the present book constitutes a major pioneering summary of Ugandan oral culture for children The book addresses key questions such as What happens when we collect transcribe and translate an oral text How do we transfer components of the oral text to the page What are the challenges of translating oral forms targeting specifically a child Audience and what choices ought to be made in the process The book provides possible ways of rethinking the debate about orality and literacy as modes of representation the generic interrelationship between the oral and the written text and how the two can enter dialogue through transcription and translation The latter are effective means to archive these oral forms for children and use them to promote literacy and numeracy skills in predominantly oral communities In the current institutions of formal education in Uganda this coexistence of orality and literacy is evident in the class room environment where the oral text is turned into words on the page to encourage literacy Through transcription the collector is able to capture oral texts in other forms audio written visual and digital With the new technologies available the task is not as arduous as in the past and the information thus captured is made available in all its wealth for purposes of instruction or entertainment

The Praeger International Handbook of Special Education Michael L. Wehmeyer, James R. Patton, 2017-06-15 This handbook provides a concise overview of special education services in countries across the world using the Article on Education in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities as the analytical frame The Praeger International Handbook of Special Education presents a concise and clear overview of special education services in more than 70 countries across the world using the Article on Education in the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with disabilities as the analytical frame Each chapter offers information about the country in general followed by sections on the public education system the private education system the special education system teacher training requirements and barriers to and promising trends in inclusive and special education The volumes and chapters are organized by the United Nations Geoscheme with Volume 1 including an overview of the volumes and chapters on countries in the Americas Volume 2 addressing countries from Europe and Africa and Volume 3 focusing on countries in Asia and Oceania This is the most complete exploration of the delivery of supports and services to children and youth with disabilities across the globe available. The volumes do not compare among or between countries but rather provide a baseline for understanding current special education practices and their relationship with general education and inclusive practices across the globe. Readers will come away with an in depth understanding of what is happening with regard to the implementation of special education services and Article 24 of the Convention for the Rights of People with Disabilities. This valuable reference set serves researchers, graduate students and policymakers in special and general education as well as professionals focused on issues of education worldwide and scholars focused on international special education. As such, this handbook will be an important reference source for university libraries, professional associations and policy entities.

Literacy for All in Africa: Teaching reading in African schools C. E. Onukaogu, 2005. The first in a two volume set of selected papers presented at the 3rd Pan African Conference on Reading for All in Kampala, Uganda. This volume considers literacy within the formal education system in Africa, bringing international perspectives to the topic. It documents programs that are working to improve practices and the teaching of reading in schools and literacy in more than one language, presenting case studies from Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia and Nigeria. It addresses the subject of developing culturally appropriate educational and literacy materials, particularly in African languages. The final section considers more esoteric debates about cultural barriers to reading and the development of a reading culture and the cultural differences in reading and interpretation of literary texts.
