Introduction

Definition: - It is the most effective non-destructive testing technique used in the aviation industry to detect the subsurface and surface flaws as well as to measure the specimen thickness. This technique takes the advantage of the high frequency sound waves to detect any flaw within the material.

Types of Ultrasonic Inspection

- Contact testing: - Scanning is done manually over the test specimen surface by the probe / search unit.
- Immersion testing: - Both the test specimen and the probe / search unit immersed inside the water

Methods of Ultrasonic Testing

- Pulse Echo
- Transmission method
- Resonance
- Phased Array

Höller, 2013-06-29 During recent years an increasing amount of research has been conducted to develop methods and procedures for improving interpretation in nondestructive testing This research covers appropriate testing procedures as well as the algorithms for interpretation In several cases a state has been reached which allows for implementation The objective of the workshop was to bring together researchers and industrial users of both countries and colleagues from other countries for a thorough and critical discussion of how far we have come and where we have to go to solve the basic practical problems of interpretation in nondestructive testing and of data acquisition necessary for this purpose Dr Dau from EPRI stated during the last International Conference for Nondestructive Testing in Nuclear Industry that from the point of view of time and money spent research is the smallest part of innovation but I would like to add in full agreement with him the most essential Without successful research innovation is not possible at all but neither research and invention nor any other step in an innovation procedure can be left out Our philosophy is to keep researchers involved until the end of the innovation That means until a new or improved NOT method is approved under industrial environment and implemented in industry There can be no doubt that the further we proceed on this long road the more industry will have to be involved and assume the initiative responsibility and the leading role
