Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities Bosch,

Chantelle, Laubscher, Dorothy Joy, Kyei-Blankson, Lydia, 2021-05-14 Challenges in the educational arena are not new phenomena. However, with the recent outbreak of the COVID 19 pandemic, researchers and educators have been made even more aware of the need for a paradigm shift in education. Blended learning, as opposed to fully online learning or traditional face-to-face teaching, has been well researched and has been found to have the potential to provide better educational solutions in challenging contexts. These contexts range from pandemic situations where social distancing is the order of the day to financial and time constraints regarding full-time study as well as limited physical capacity at institutions. Blended learning solutions are often designed for resourceful institutions and cannot be easily implemented in developing countries and in communities where resources are limited. Typical issues like connectivity, accessibility, lack of suitable devices, and affordability need to be taken into consideration and in cognizance of blended learning interventions. These challenges are often neglected in blended learning research but are critical discussions to be had. Re-Envisioning and Restructuring Blended Learning for Underprivileged Communities shares how institutions in the developing world and less privileged communities have reimagined and restructured blended education to enhance teaching and learning for underprivileged communities. This book aims to address blended learning solutions across institutional, program, course, and activity levels. The chapters will cover a variety of learning environments from rural settings to less developed countries and more, and explore the programs and courses designed to improve student success and accessibility in diverse student populations. This book is ideally intended for teachers, administrators, teacher educators, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, academicians, and students who are interested in blended learning opportunities in less privileged settings and to underserved and marginalized populations.

Global Perspectives on Micro-Learning and Micro-Credentials in Higher Education Omona, Kizito, O'dama, Modest Kayi, 2024-02-27 In the rapidly evolving landscape of higher education where the acquisition of knowledge is a lifelong pursuit, educators and institutions are redefining the paradigms of learning through innovative approaches. Global Perspectives on Micro Learning and Micro Credentials in Higher Education delves into the intricate tapestry of contemporary education where the convergence of advanced pedagogies and cutting-edge technologies is reshaping traditional boundaries. As the realms of chatbots, gamification, and hybrid learning intersect, a new era of holistic education emerges seamlessly, blending theoretical prowess with experiential wisdom. The book unfurls with meticulous exploration of pivotal themes embracing the nuanced realms of instructional design, learning analytics, and library services tailored for the modern educational era. From the granular landscapes of microlearning to the macroscopic view of global teacher retention strategies, the book leaves no stone unturned. This book is a symphony of intellectual rigor orchestrated to resonate with educators, administrators, researchers, and all stakeholders vested in the future of learning.

Lifelong Learning and

Development Julia Preece, 2009-09-21 This fascinating monograph explores lifelong learning in the context of development as it is used for low and middle income countries particularly with reference to Africa and South Asia Taking a broadly postcolonial and critical theory perspective thus privileging texts from the global South that highlight pre colonial origins for lifelong learning it critiques the discourse of development as it applies to education for low income countries and explores relevant texts that apply lifelong learning principles to nation building and other development issues Professor Preece draws on the broader philosophical and sociological concerns of authors from low and middle income countries in order to highlight values cultures and learning priorities that are often forgotten in the dominant and usually instrumentalist policy texts for lifelong learning She includes reference to African Renaissance texts on African philosophies and education traditions feminist theories on lifelong learning Southern feminist approaches to gender issues and comparative research literature that addresses the dangers of uncritical international transfer
