Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1978 Proceedings ... Mid-year Meeting American Petroleum Institute, 1939 Transit Journal, 1915 Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement Pierre-Henri Conac, Martin Gelter, 2019-01-03 Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement provides a clear and exhaustive description of the national regime for the enforcement of securities legislation in cases of misrepresentation on financial markets It covers 29 jurisdictions worldwide some of them are important although their law is not well known It will be an invaluable resource for academics and students of securities litigation as well as for lawyers policy makers and regulators The book also provides a comprehensive contribution debate on whether public or private enforcement is preferable in terms of development of securities markets It will appeal to those interested in the legal origins theory and in comparative securities law and shows that the classification of jurisdictions within legal families does not explain the differences in legal regimes While US securities law often serves as a model for international convergence some of its elements such as securities class actions have not been adopted worldwide

Constructing Reform Vaughan Higgins, 2002 The productivity and efficiency of farmers in both Australia and other Western nations has assumed increasing significance on the formal political agenda since the 1960s Economic changes at both the international and national level have raised questions among economists farm organisations and state agencies concerning the capacity of some farmers to be able to earn an adequate income and thereby contribute to national agricultural output and efficiency While these concerns have contributed to policies of farm subsidisation in Europe Britain and the United States Australia has taken a somewhat different path Farm reconstruction and adjustment programs were created from the early 1970s that sought to restructure the farm sector by encouraging so called unviable farmers to exit the industry while providing incentives for remaining producers to improve their productivity Economists in both the public service and academic institutions have welcomed such policies arguing that intervention in assisting processes of adjustment makes agricultural resources available for those farmers who will use them in the most efficient manner while ensuring also that the welfare needs of unviable farmers are met The aim of this book is to explore the events techniques and forms of calculation through which economic expertise in Australia has come to assume increased authority on matters of agricultural change and the consequences of this for how strategies of restructuring are assembled as objects of knowledge
