Fanon, i ek, and the Violence of Resistance Zahi Zalloua, 2025-06-26 In a novel pairing of anti colonial theorist Frantz Fanon with Marxist Lacanian philosopher Slavoj i ek Zahi Zalloua explores the ways both thinkers expose the violence of political structures This inventive exploration advances an anti racist critique describing how ontology operates in a racial matrix to produce some human bodies that count and others deemed not quite or non human that do not For Fanon and i ek the violence of ontology must be met with another form of violence a revolutionary violence that delegitimizes the logic of the symbolic order and troubles its collective fantasies Whereas Fanon begins his challenge to ontology by exposing its historical linkages to Europe s destructive imperialist procedures before proceeding to stretch Marxism along with psychoanalysis to account for the crushing neo colonial situation i ek premises his work on the refusal to accept the totality of ontology Because of these different points of intervention Fanon and i ek together offer a powerful and multifaceted assessment of the liberal anti racist paradigm whose propensity for identity politics and aversion to class struggle silence the cry of the dispossessed and foreclose radical change Avoiding contemporary separatist temptations decoloniality and Afropessimism and breaking with a non violent sentimentalist futurology that announces more of the same Fanon and i ek point in a different direction one that eschews identitarian thought in favor of a collective struggle for freedom and equality

Nanotechnology in Functional Foods Tanima Bhattacharya, Shakeel Ahmed, 2022-08-23 NANOTECHNOLOGY IN FUNCTIONAL FOODS The broad applicability of bioactive delivery systems for improving food quality safety and human health will make this book a valuable resource for a wide range of readers in industry research and academia Functional foods is an emerging trend in the food industry whose potential value is determined by whether they are safe with respect to consumer health Nanotechnology in Functional Foods was written to help the reader better understand the benefits and concerns associated with these foods In addition to giving an overview of the current state of the art in functional foods different aspects of the advanced research being conducted on their extraction synthesis analysis and biological effects are presented Besides focusing on several synthesis techniques the book also discusses the application of nanoparticles in nutrient delivery and pharmaceuticals such as nano emulsions solid lipid nanoparticles and polymeric nanoparticles their properties and interactions with other food components and their impact on the human body the consumer acceptance and diversification of these nutrients Moreover new trends are discussed concerning the application of artificial intelligence in screening various components of functional foods Audience The book will be central to food scientists materials scientists biotechnologists medicinal chemists pharmacists and medical professionals Tanima Bhattacharya PhD is a formulation scientist who completed her Doctoral degree in Food Processing Nutrition Science from the Indian Institute of Engineering Science and Technology Shibpur West Bengal India and gained overseas post doctoral experience from the College of Chemistry and Chemical Engineering Hubei University of China She has published several scientific research articles in international peer reviewed journals and her research interests include the fabrication of biocompatible nanostructures and studying their properties and applications in the area of food science technology and biomedical sciences Shakeel Ahmed PhD is an assistant professor of Chemistry at the Higher Education Department Government of Jammu and Kashmir India His PhD degree in Chemistry is from Jamia Millia Islamia A Central University New Delhi He has published several research publications in the area of green nanomaterials and biopolymers for various applications including biomedical packaging and water treatment He has published more than 20 books in the area of nanomaterials and green materials Recent Advances in $\gamma\delta$ T Cell Biology: New Ligands, New Functions, and New Translational Perspectives Dieter Kabelitz, Julie Dechanet-Merville, 2016-02-16 Gamma delta T cells are a small subset of T lymphocytes in the peripheral circulation but constitute a major T cell population at other anatomical localizations such as the epithelial tissues In contrast to conventional T cells the available number of germline genes coding for T cell receptor TCR variable elements of T cells is very small Moreover there is a preferential localization of T cells expressing given Vgamma and Vdelta genes in certain tissues In humans T cells expressing the Vg9Vd2 encoded TCR account for anywhere between 50 and 95% of peripheral blood T cells whereas cells expressing non Vd2 genes dominate in mucosal tissues In mice there is an ordered appearance of T cell waves during embryonic development resulting in preferential localization of T cells expressing distinct VgammaVdelta genes in the skin the reproductive organs or gut epithelia The major function of T cells resides in local immunosurveillance and immune defense against infection and malignancy This is supported by the identification of ligands that are selectively recognized by the TCR As an example human Vgamma9Vdelta2 T cells recognize phosphorylated metabolites phosphoantigens that are secreted by many pathogens but can also be overproduced by tumor cells providing a basis for a role of these T cells in both anti infective and anti tumor immunity Similarly the recognition of endothelial protein C receptor by human non Vdelta2 T cells has recently been identified to provide a link for the role for such T cells in immunity against epithelial tumor cells and cytomegalovirus infected endothelial cells In addition to classical functions such as cytokine production and cytotoxicity recent studies suggest that subsets of T cells can exert additional functions such as regulatory activity and quite surprisingly professional antigen presenting capacity It is currently not well known how this tremendous extent of functional plasticity is regulated and what is the extent of TCR ligand diversity Due to their non MHC restricted recognition of unusual stress associated ligands T cells have raised great interest as to their potential translational application in cell based immunotherapy Topics of this Research Focus include Molecular insights into the activation and differentiation requirements of T cells role of pyrophosphates and butyrophilin molecules for the activation of human T cells role of T cells in tumor immunity and in other infectious and non infectious diseases and many others We are most grateful to all colleagues who agreed to write a manuscript Thanks to their contributions this E book presents an up to date overview on many facets of the still exciting T cells Dieter Kabelitz Julie D chanet Merville
