New England Journal of Education, 1875 Reference Point and Case Chongwon Park, 2019-12-12 This monograph answers the rarely discussed questions of why complicated grammatical case phenomena exist in Korean and what the connection is between the case forms and their functions The author argues that the case forms in Korean reflect patterns of the human cognitive process While this approach may seem rather obvious to non linguists it is indeed a novel claim in contemporary linguistic theory In order to provide technical analyses of Korean case phenomena such as multiple nominative accusative non nominative subject and adverbial case constructions this book adopts an independently established descriptive construct known as reference point in the framework of Cognitive Grammar The author demonstrates that the notion of reference point not only explains a substantially wider set of data but also leads to a more reasonable generalization The intended readership of this book are researchers who are interested in case phenomena irrespective of their theoretical orientation
