Wagadu Kathryn Coffey, 2015-02-04 Traditionally, transnational feminists have examined the fields of gender, sexuality, and Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, and LGBTQ studies by critically addressing issues of colonialism, white supremacy, globalization, capitalism, and heterosexism. Like most fields within higher education, gender and sexuality studies, women's studies, and LGBTQ studies are still dominated by white scholars; moreover, these are predominately scholars from colonial western cultures. Many universities and activist groups are arguing for a global queer community and movement for rights protection and freedoms for LGBTQ communities. From the academy to the streets, members of the LGBTQ community and their allies are challenging global heterosexism. This special issue of Wagadu is dedicated to an interdisciplinary, intersectional, multi-movement and multi-dimensional critique of heterosexism from a global social justice/queer perspective. Regardless of the topic or whether from a practical or theoretical perspective, all authors challenge the current paradigm of heteronormality that exists locally, nationally, and/or globally. In this special issue of Wagadu, a Transnational Journal of Women's and Gender Studies.

Cognitive Support for Learning Piet A. M. Kommers, 2004 This book addresses the various aspects of computational support systems for learners nowadays. It highlights in particular those learning aspects that rely heavily upon one's imagination of knowledge and new ideas. The question is how learners may become more effective through the use of highly graphical computer systems that now conquer almost every desk. As an extrapolation of the constructionist paradigm, learning is seen here as a process of conceptual design. Witnessing the prudent introduction of CADD software (Computer Aided Drafting and Design), it is obvious that users are generally scrupulous to accept the computer in the ideational stages of design. This book presents both existing conceptual techniques and those estimated to arrive in the few coming years.
