MERCHANDISING OPERATIONS

Merchandising companies (ex. Carrefour) buy and sell merchandise rather than perform services as their primary source of revenue.

Merchandising companies that purchase and sell directly to consumers are called retailers.

Merchandising companies that sell to retailers are known as wholesalers.

The primary source of revenues for merchandising companies is the sale of merchandise, often referred to simply as sales revenue or sales.

A merchandising company has two categories of expenses:

- 1) cost of goods sold
  - a) is the total cost of merchandise sold during the period.
  - b) This expense is directly related to the revenue recognized from the sale of goods.
- 2) operating expenses

Operating cycle

The operating cycle of a merchandising company is longer than that of a service company. The purchase of merchandise inventory and its eventual sale lengthen the cycle.
