Evaporites Through Space and Time B. Charlotte Schreiber, S. Lugli, M. Bağel, 2007. This book is an exploration of varying approaches to the study of the deposition, diagenesis, and stratigraphy of evaporites. The volume includes papers from chemical modellers who work on the basis of geochemical representations of the formative water bodies and from basin-wide depositional stratigraphical modellers who propose depositional scenarios that are fitted to individual basinal pictures. Until now, there have been only a few studies of evaporite formation that explain the characteristic features we observe in the real rock record. This volume is a collection of relevant papers in which these features are integrated in a realistic manner based on our new understanding of saline water bodies, to the diverse tectonic, chemical, and depositional constraints of their individual basins. In addition, there are several review articles that offer oversight and extensive referencing of basins worthy of further study This book is a valuable resource for sedimentologists and stratigraphers looking for an up to date reference on evaporite deposits
