(1) Where the rights under this Licence are relinquished during the exploration period, such relinquishment shall apply to the entire licence area.

(2) Where the Licence has been extended in respect of one or more areas for the purpose of production, the Licensee may relinquish the right to any such area upon one year's notice.

(3) In the event of any relinquishment pursuant to subs. (1) or subs. (2), the provisions in sections 36 and 37 shall apply.

Section 35

(1) The Danish Energy Agency may revoke this Licence:

- 1) if any provisions, conditions or stipulations contained in the Subsoil Act and in this Licence or issued pursuant thereto are not complied with,
- 2) if incorrect or misleading information is given in an application for a Licence,
- 3) if one or more holders of the Licence is subjected to restructuring, file a petition for a compulsory composition with creditors, are declared bankrupt, go into liquidation or experience any comparable circumstances.

(2) If the default can be remedied by the Licensee, the Licence may not be revoked pursuant to para. 1) of subs. (1) until the Danish Energy Agency has ordered that the default be remedied within a specified period, and such order has not been complied with.

(3) In the case of revocation pursuant to subs. (1) and lapsing of the Licence pursuant to subs. (4), the provisions of sections 36 and 37 shall apply.

(4) If production has been initiated and is then suspended for a period of more than two consecutive years, and such suspension is not part of an approved plan, the Licence shall lapse for the area concerned, unless the Licensee can substantiate that continuing production is introductory text Actually the next five chapters dealing with psychology as a science methodology evolution physiology and learning are in many ways comparable to the treatments provided in more eclectic introductory texts The behavioral focus and the departure from traditional approaches become most significant in the last six chapters which deal with traditional psychological topics e g language child development and personality but deal with them systematically in terms of the concepts and principles introduced in the chapters on evolution and physiology and especially in the chapter on learning Using the concepts provided early in the text to interpret complex aspects of human behavior provides valuable justification for those concepts as well as an opportunity for improved understanding of them Although students will not make extensive contact with the variety of the theoretical approaches found in the typical text they will become especially competent in the use of behavioral concepts and principles to interpret and understand many of the topics of traditional importance in psychology
