

Chapter 9-2 Genetic Crosses

Genotype and Phenotype

- An organism's genetic makeup is its genotype
- The genotype consists of the alleles that the organism inherits
  - The genotype is represented by Pp or PP
- An organism's physical appearance is its phenotype
  - The phenotype of a Pp or PP plant is purple flowers
- When both alleles of a pair are alike the organism is said to be homozygous (PP or pp)
- When both alleles of a pair are different the organism is said to be heterozygous (Pp)

Probability

- The likelihood that a specific even will occur
- Can be expressed in percentages, fractions, or ratios
- The results are more likely to occur when there are many trials

Monohybrid Crosses

- A cross between organisms in which only one characteristic is being tracked
- Punnett square is used to predict the probability of inherited traits
- Example 1: Homozygous x Homozygous
  - Cross between two true-breeding organisms (PP x pp)
  - All organisms have Pp genotype and exhibit the dominant allele
- Example 2: Homozygous x Heterozygous
  - Cross between PP and Pp
  - 50% probability of Pp offspring; 50% probability of PP offspring (this is with EACH gamete produced)
  - all offspring will exhibit the dominant allele
- Example 3: Heterozygous x Heterozygous
  - Cross between Pp and Pp
  - 25% probability of PP; 50% probability Pp; 25% probability pp
  - 75% of the offspring will exhibit the dominant allele; 25% will exhibit the recessive allele
- Example 4: Testcross
  - If you are unsure of an individuals genotype, you could perform a testcross with an individual of homozygous recessive genotype
  - If a recessive allele is expressed in any of the offspring, you would be able to identify that the unknown genotype would be heterozygous

Incomplete Dominance

- Occurs when the phenotype of a heterozygote is an intermediate between the phenotypes of the parents
- Ex: red flowers crossed with white flowers produce pink flowers
