Review Editors Choice A groundbreaking and endlessly surprising history of how artisans created America from the nation s origins to the present day At the center of the United States economic and social development according to conventional wisdom are industry and technology while craftspeople and handmade objects are relegated to a bygone past Renowned historian Glenn Adamson turns that narrative on its head in this innovative account revealing makers central role in shaping America s identity Examine any phase of the nation s struggle to define itself and artisans are there from the silversmith Paul Revere and the revolutionary carpenters and blacksmiths who hurled tea into Boston Harbor to today s maker movement From Mother Jones to Rosie the Riveter From Betsy Ross to Rosa Parks From suffrage banners to the AIDS Quilt Adamson shows that craft has long been implicated in debates around equality education and class Artisanry has often been a site of resistance for oppressed people such as enslaved African Americans whose skilled labor might confer hard won agency under bondage or the Native American makers who adapted traditional arts into statements of modernity Theirs are among the array of memorable portraits of Americans both celebrated and unfamiliar in this richly peopled book As Adamson argues these artisans stories speak to our collective striving toward a more perfect union From the beginning America had to be and still remains to be crafted Understanding and Applying Assessment in Education Damian Murchan, Gerry

Shiel, 2024-04-09 All teachers are responsible for assessing the children they teach and the outcomes of any assessment are important for individual learners schools and wider education systems Designed as a pragmatic guide for new teachers and those training to teach this book is your one stop shop for understanding assessment in schools It covers formative and summative approaches used across primary and secondary education supporting a balanced overview with policy examples drawn from the UK Ireland and wider international contexts This updated second edition reflects recent trends in assessment and includes more balanced coverage across primary and secondary age phases with a broader range of examples across curriculum subject areas a new chapter on the potential of digital assessment for both formative and summative purposes the impact of the COVID 19 pandemic on assessment in general and examinations in particular Damian Murchan is Associate Professor in the School of Education at Trinity College Dublin Gerry Shiel is a Research Fellow at the Educational Research Centre Dublin Ireland
