The National Council for Higher Education and the Growth of the University Sub-sector in Uganda, 2002-2012 Kasozi, A.B.K., 2017-05-05 The National Council for Higher Education NCHE and the Growth of the University Sub sector in Uganda 2002 2012 narrates the experience of the Ugandan NCHE in the establishment development and regulation of higher education institutions in Uganda from 2002 to 2012 In this period student numbers in higher education institutions increased from about 65 000 to some 200 000 and university institutions from about ten to more than triple the number The book discusses the role of a regulatory agency in the delivery of higher education the relations of universities and colleges with such an agency its impact on developing university capacities and leadership in creating and refining higher education ideas The experience of Uganda s regulatory agency the NCHE in those ten years should help both the Ugandan and other African countries higher education stakeholders in sharing lessons learned from this one case study The author sees the roles of regulatory agencies as vital in the initial stages of building a higher education sub sector and in periods of system transitions such as the current journey from elite to mass systems but is of the view that the university remains the home of knowledge creation dissemination and its application in society Historical Dictionary of Uganda Joseph Kasule,2022-06-22

Promise beyond the Few in Sub-Saharan Africa Peter Darvas,Shang Gao,Yijun Shen,Bilal Bawany,2017-11-15 Despite a spectacular expansion of the higher education sector in Sub Saharan Africa the supply of tertiary education has generally failed to keep pace with demand and the region continues to lag all other regions in terms of access to tertiary education This is in part a consequence of deeply entrenched patterns of inequitable access to higher education and the perpetuation of what researchers refer to as elite systems To date access to tertiary education in Sub Saharan Africa has unduly benefitted students drawn from the region s wealthiest households and overall enrollment remains disproportionately male and metropolitan These factors stifle the catalytic potential of higher education corroding its potential for driving economic growth and sustaining poverty reduction Instead patterns of access to tertiary education have generally reinforced and reproduced social inequality instead of eroding its pernicious social and economic effects This report aims to inform an improved understanding of equity in tertiary enrollment in Sub Saharan African countries and to examine the extent to which

inequity functions as a bottleneck inhibiting the ability of African universities to effectively drive improvements in overall quality of life and economic competitiveness In our survey of the evidence we also aim to identify which policies most effectively address the challenge of promoting equity of access in SSA tertiary education systems In order to achieve these objectives the report collects generates and analyzes empirical evidence on patterns of equity examines the underlying causes of inequity and evaluates government policies for addressing inequity The Palgrave Handbook on the Pedagogy of International Relations Theory Jamie Frueh, Jacqui Ala, Michael P.A. Murphy, Paul F. Diehl, 2025-02-11 The Palgrave Handbook on the Pedagogy of International Relations Theory is a collection that explores how best to teach the systems of thought that organize the study of international relations and global politics All chapters document and advance intradisciplinary conversations about the challenge of helping students understand the nuances of IR theory Authors document strategies they have successfully applied to that challenge in a variety of contexts and encourage readers to creatively adapt to the challenges of their own pedagogical contexts The handbook is organized around four themes teaching theory for particular audiences and classroom contexts tips for teaching specific theories an exploration of pedagogical approaches to teaching theory and pedagogical considerations specific to courses in geographic regions You Can't Make "Fish Climb Trees" Lawrence Muganga, 2018-08-02 In our rapidly changing global environment where learning methods styles and access vary dramatically it is increasingly necessary to stimulate conversation around drastically revolutionizing education In You Can't Make a Fish Climb Trees Overcoming Educational Malpractice through Authentic Learning author and scholar Lawrence Muganga advocates for educational transformation and exposes our archaic education systems modeled for nineteenth century Europe which has allowed governments and administrators to structure and deliver education as if it were an assembly line The current model largely discounts students individual differences and natural abilities impacting their ability to transition from the classroom into the workforce While he focuses on the need for more dynamic education models in Sub Saharan Africa Muganga establishes applications for the presence of Authentic Learning where teaching happens in a student centered environment filled with real world applications throughout the global community Drawing from the research of educational experts worldwide he advocates for the kind of revolutionized education model that would see students individuality used to empower them so that they can navigate their future and the workforce successfully

Global Age Amri, Laroussi, Ramtohul, Ramola, 2015-03-01 One of the major issues this book examines is what the African experience and identity have contributed to the debate on citizenship in the era of globalisation The volume presents case studies of different African contexts illustrating the gendered aspects of citizenship as experienced by African men and women Citizenship carries manifold gendered aspects and given the distinct gender roles and responsibilities globalisation affects citizenship in different ways It further examines new forms of citizenship emerging from the current era dominated by a neoliberal focus The book is not exclusive in terms of theorisation but its focus on African contexts with an in depth analysis taking into consideration local culture and practices and their implications for citizenship provides a good foundation for further scholarly work on gender and citizenship in Africa Primate Life Histories, Sex Roles, and Adaptability Urs Kalbitzer, Katharine M. the messages contained within this book The Secret of Spiritual Rest Zacharias Tanee Fomum,2015-12-30 We are in a world without rest Many people lack rest outwardly A few are outwardly calm apparently at peace yet many are at war on the inside These are the words of the author Zacharias Tanee Fomum which justifies his burden for writing this book to satisfy God's need to produce people who through the work of the cross and of the Holy Spirit are at rest regardless of the outward circumstances in which they find themselves and wherever they are The book is based on the life of Isaac a Bible character who made spiritual progress in the area of dying to personal glory along the long journey of his life Read this book and enter into the experience of the deep rest which Isaac knew and therefore be able to serve the Lord full of the peace which comes from Christ and not from man The Cross in the Life and Ministry of the Believer Zacharias Tanee Fomum,2015-05-16 The final say of the author to the Church at large The messages found in this book feature among the last of a series of messages delivered to the people of God in Cameroon and intended for the training of leaders In this book Professor Fomum presents the cross as an indispensable condition for a quality spiritual life In short the extent to which a believer can actually minister is proportional to the degree he/she dies to the self life Furthermore the author displays the implications of the Kingdom life on earth nowadays he ends up making suggestions on how to lay a nation down at the feet of the Lord The cross is a central element in the life as well as the ministry of a believer In a sense the messages contained in this book represent the final say of the author to the Church at large May each and everyone acknowledge and really experience the cross such that the Holy Ghost will easily have His way in our lives for the glory of the Lord
