Sullivan, Douglas C. Anderson, Justin W. Cole, 2021-06-16 This textbook offers a unique and accessible approach to ethical decision making for practicing pharmacists and student pharmacists Unlike other texts it gives clear guidance based on the fundamental principles of moral philosophy explaining them in simple language and illustrating them with abundant clinical examples and case studies The strength of this text is in its emphasis on normative ethics and critical thinking and that there is truly a best answer in the vast majority of cases no matter how complex The authors place high trust in a pharmacist's moral judgment This teaches the reader how to think based on ethical principles not necessarily what to think This means navigating between the two extremes of overly theoretical and excessively prescriptive The cogent framework given in this text uses the language of competing duties identifying the moral principles at stake that create duties for the pharmacist This is the balancing act of normative ethics and of deciding which duties should prevail in a given clinical situation This work presents a clear cut pathway for resolving ethical dilemmas encountered by pharmacists based on foundational principles and critical thinking Presents a clear cut pathway for resolving the ethical dilemmas encountered by pharmacists based on foundational principles and critical thinking Jon E Sprague RPh PhD Director of Science and Research for the Ohio Attorney General Educational Choices, Transitions and Aspirations in Europe Aina Tarabini, Nicola Ingram, 2018-06-13 Educational Choices Transitions and Aspirations in Europe analyses educational choices and transitions in eight different European countries regions and provides an engaging means of considering issues of inequality through international comparisons The book is underpinned by explorations of theoretical perspectives and methodological approaches which share the common goal of highlighting and challenging educational inequalities in relation to political imaginings and discursive constructions of notions of aspirations and choice Beginning with an overview of the theoretical landscape the book posits ways of understanding transitional experiences through both a social and a political lens Comprising of chapters that explore these issues within the context of specific countries and at different stages of young people's transitions the collection examines the features of different European education systems and how they frame transitions and choices before providing an overall analysis of systemic institutional and subjective constraints on these processes The book uniquely opens and develops an intellectual conversation about different education systems with similar educational challenges and outcomes Assimilating key issues and solutions this volume also makes general recommendations for policy and practice that would help to promote greater equity and social justice The book covers a range of transition points and countries which should make it essential reading for academics researchers and postgraduate students with an interest in international perspectives on education It will be particularly useful for those working in education sociology social policy geography and politics
