Nursing In Durban Application 2015:

Forecasting Informatics Competencies for Nurses in the Future of Connected Health J. Murphy, W. Goossen, P. Weber, 2017-01-26 Nursing informatics has a long history of focusing on information management and nurses have a long history of describing their computer use. However, based on the technical advances and through the ongoing and consistent changes in healthcare today, we are now challenged to look to the future and help determine what nurses and patients/consumers will need going forward. This book presents the proceedings of the Post Conference to the 13th International Conference on Nursing Informatics held in Geneva, Switzerland, in June 2016. The theme of the Post Conference is Forecasting Informatics Competencies for Nurses in the Future of Connected Health. This book includes 25 chapters written as part of the Post Conference, a result of the collaboration among nursing informatics experts from research, education, and practice settings from 18 countries and from varying levels of expertise: those beginning to forge new frontiers in connected health and those who helped form the discipline. The book content will help forecast and define the informatics competencies for nurses in practice and, as such, it will also help outline the requirements for informatics training in nursing programs around the world. The content will aid in shaping the nursing practice that will exist in our future of connected health when practice and technology will be inextricably intertwined.

Metal Sulfide Nanomaterials for Environmental Applications Peter R. Makgwane, Naveen Kumar, 2024-10-24 Metal Sulfide Nanomaterials for Environmental Applications presents the fundamentals necessary to understand the latest developments and possibilities of applied use specifically for chemical detection, sensing, and monitoring in air, soil, and water matrices, as well as for chemical reaction engineering purposes: conversion, photocatalysis, adsorption to facilitate removal of pollutants. Organic contaminants, volatile organic compounds, and heavy metals pose long-term threats to natural ecosystems and human health. Particularly in the last decade, metal sulfide nanomaterials have piqued researchers' interest due to their outstanding physicochemical characteristics that make them amenable to modulation, as well as their qualitative and quantitative structure-activity relationship. Offers up-to-date state-of-the-art information on metal sulfide nanomaterials. Takes advantage of a structured and comprehensive approach to seamlessly combine theory and practical applications. Focuses on usability for environmental remediation, making its contents extremely valuable. Conceptualizes future implications at the end of each chapter.

Working with indigenous knowledge Fhumulani M. Mulaudzi, Rachel T. Lebesse, 2022 The aim of the book is to assist both local and international scholars in articulating the scholarly discourse on indigenous health attitudes, practices, and experiences. The indigenous lens that was used to generate and disseminate indigenous knowledge in this book will strengthen indigenous scholarship, thus making it accessible to a wider audience. In addition, the information shared in this book will add value for scholars and assist them with the indigenous knowledge needed to address sustainable development goals. This book is timely and topical as the discourse on the decolonisation of the curriculum is widely debated in the higher education space. The discourse on the scholarship of indigenous knowledge as the tacit local knowledge that stems from cultural practices within communities has not been well articulated in the current health science education milieu Indigenous knowledge has remained overlooked and undermined for a very long time and the information remains untapped in local communities The scholars who conducted the research on which this book is based unearthed a wealth of knowledge which was tacit in nature and translated it into implicit knowledge that can be documented and shared with other scholars globally This knowledge will assist health care scholars in benefiting from knowledge practices and cultural beliefs that will assist them in health care planning teaching evidence based practice and further research Etnoenfermería y autoexploración Martínez Pérez, Guillermo Z.,2021-05-31 Las Ciencias de la Salud constituyen un rea de conocimiento cuyo momento de inicio de su desarrollo se caracteriz por la creaci n de nuevo conocimiento de tipo cient fico t cnico A d a de hoy no hay duda de que los profesionales de la salud poseen un elevado nivel de formaci n cient fica t cnica y cl nica Concretamente para la enfermer a tras una trayectoria hist rica de avances y retrocesos actualmente se ha conseguido la profesionalizaci n de la acci n del cuidado Y esta profesionalizaci n ha priorizado los aspectos biol gicos de la pr ctica enfermera incluso como requisito imprescindible para conseguir esa cientificidad anteriormente mencionada Healthcare Policy and Reform: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2018-08-03 Industry professionals government officials and the general public often agree that the modern healthcare system is in need of an overhaul With many organizations concerned with the long term care of patients new strategies practices and organizational tools must be developed to optimize the current healthcare system Healthcare Policy and Reform Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications is a comprehensive source of academic material on the importance of policy and policy reform initiatives in modern healthcare systems Highlighting a range of topics such as public health effective care delivery and health information systems this multi volume book is designed for medical practitioners medical administrators professionals academicians and researchers interested in all aspects of healthcare policy and reform Epidemics and the Health of African Nations MISTRA MISTRA,2019-07-25 News footage of disease in Africa is a familiar sight Yet these outbreaks are often presented out of context with no reference to the conditions that have triggered them MISTRAs new book Epidemics and the Health of African Nations aims to redress that Researchers and practitioners from within the continent explore why Africa is so vulnerable to disease and show how this vulnerability is closely linked to political and economic factors They demonstrate how these same factors determine the way epidemics are treated Authors extract lessons from case studies in different parts of Africa challenge conventional frameworks about disease to argue for a syndemics approach that takes into account the interrelationship between disease and political and socio economic contexts explore challenges of Africas future They argue that a well functioning health system is at the core of a countrys capacity to counter an epidemic This volume brings African experts together to probe possible solutions to the continents heavy burden of disease The insights offered will be helpful in devising policy for the control of disease and the combatting of epidemics in Africa Health Promotion in Canada Irving Rootman, Ann Pederson, Katherine L. Frohlich, Sophie Dupéré, 2017-11-10 Health Promotion in Canada is a comprehensive profile of the history current status and future of health promotion in Canada This fourth edition maintains the critical approach of the previous three editions but provides a current and in depth analysis of theory practice policy and research in Canada in relation to recent innovative approaches in health promotion Thoroughly updated with 15 new chapters and all new learning objectives the edited collection contains contributions by prominent Canadian academics researchers and practitioners as well as an afterword by Ronald Labont The authors cover a broad range of topics including inequities in health Indigenous communities and immigrants mental health violence against women global ecological change and globalization The book also provides critical reflections on practice and concrete Canadian examples that bring theory to life Contingent Citizens

Elizabeth Hull, 2020-05-27 Contingent Citizens examines the ambiguous state of South Africa s public sector workers and the implications for contemporary understandings of citizenship It takes us inside an ethnography of the professional ethic of nurses in a rural hospital in KwaZulu Natal shaped by a deep history of mission medicine and changing forms of new public management Liberal democratic principles of transparency decentralization and rights though promising freedom from control often generate fear and insecurity instead But despite the pressures they face Elizabeth Hull shows that nurses draw on a range of practices from international migration to new religious movements to assert new forms of citizenship Focusing an anthropological lens on professionalism Hull explores the major fault lines of South Africa s fragmented social landscape class gender race and religion to make an important contribution to the study of class formation and citizenship This prize winning monograph will be of interest to scholars of anthropology development studies sociology and global public health
