Suid-Afrikaanse Hofverslae, 2014 Language and the Law Monwabisi K. Ralarala, Russell

H. Kaschula, Georgina Heydon, 2022-06-14 Language and the Law Global Perspectives in Forensic Linguistics from Africa and beyond is the third volume in a series of books designed to contribute and respond to growing interest in forensic linguistics or language and the law on the African continent. Drawing mostly on contexts where traditional African laws and Western laws are practised side by side and where there are discontinuities between local knowledge systems, belief systems and language practices on the one hand and official languages of law, discourse, conceptualisation and jurisprudence documentation on the other, the chapters in this volume problematise among other issues the mediation practices or lack thereof of language and legal processes, discourse strategies and complexities in misinterpretations in second language court contexts and the miscarriage of justice that these may entail. Cross-Border Challenges in Informatics with a Focus on Disease Surveillance and Utilising Big Data L. Stoicu-Tivadar, S. De Lusignan, A. Orel, 2014-05-21 Achieving and maintaining cross border interoperability of electronic health records systems implies managing the continuous process of change and adaptation of a multitude of elements within and across electronic infrastructures in neighboring countries. This book presents the proceedings of the 11th Special Topics Conference (STC) of the European Federation for Medical Informatics (EFMI) held in Budapest, Hungary, in April 2014. The EFMI STC is an important international forum which brings together computer and information science, medicine and technology to present results of current scientific work in health informatics processes, systems and technologies. The theme of EFMI STC 2014 is Cross border challenges in informatics with a focus on disease surveillance and utilizing big data, and the conference addressed a range of important aspects of pan-European and cross border issues. The book is divided into four sections: health data sharing and integration opportunities and the challenges of working across borders; sources of data including big data for monitoring and measuring health and disease using routine data for epidemiological study and public health; as well as a section for posters presented at the conference. Given its interdisciplinary nature, the book will be of interest to those working in a variety of disciplines including medical informatics, bioinformatics and health informatics, medical computing and technology, public health, health insurance and health institutional administration, as well as other allied health professions. amaXhosa Circumcision Lauraine M. H. Vivian, 2021-04-27 This book investigates amaXhosa circumcision and the psychological processes involved. Lauraine Vivian employs concepts such as resilience, orthodoxy, broken men and reciprocity to examine the experiences of men who have developed mental health issues in relation to their initiation into manhood. The chapters cover sensitive topics such as physical injury, pain, harm and women's agency. Drawing on the stories of over seventy amaXhosa men, the book provides rare insight into circumcision and psychotic experience. Education Annual Volume 2023, 2023-12-13 Educational research and innovation are directed towards defining, implementing and evaluating the principles guiding teaching and educational practices with the fundamental purpose of improvement. The chapters comprising this monographic volume constitute valuable contributions to this objective, adopting an inter- and transdisciplinary perspective.

particularly sought after aspect in the field of international educational studies They address issues that transcending their curricular context delve into broader frameworks and contribute to addressing current educational challenges Ultimately this volume focuses on new curricular methodological and resource evaluation orientations and developments It aims to provide responses that foster the development of critical and creative thinking skills competency based learning informed decision making and the promotion of quality teacher training These perspectives draw from the most recent international scientific literature solidifying their rigor and ensuring their scientific value Government Gazette South Africa,1957

Telemedicine in Low-Resource Settings Richard Wootton,2015-04-24 Telemedicine networks to support healthcare workers in resource limited settings often for humanitarian purposes have evolved over the last decade or so in a largely autonomous way Communication between them has been informal and relatively limited in scope This situation could be improved by developing a comprehensive approach to the collection and dissemination of information A recent review identified seven telemedicine networks each of which had been in operation for at least five years and which provided store and forward telemedicine services to doctors in low and middle income countries These networks provide clinically useful services and improved healthcare access However like much of telemedicine the formal evidence for their cost effectiveness remains weak Topics of current research interest therefore include the cost effectiveness of telemedicine in resource limited settings Outcomes data and methods for gathering it such as patient quality of life following a telemedicine episode the knowledge gain of healthcare staff involved in telemedicine and staff recruitment and retention in rural areas are also of interest Finally there is little published information about the performance of these telemedicine networks and methods for measuring it about how best to manage them and about how to share resources between them A collection of articles reporting the current evidence supporting the use of telemedicine in resource limited settings would build the evidence base and should provide a focus for future research It would also serve to raise the profile of this potentially important research field Sustainable Finance and Insurance in Africa Athenia Bongani Sibindi,2025-04-21 This book explains the concerted efforts being implemented to promote environmentally and socially responsible practices within Africa s finance and insurance sectors Sustainable development has emerged as a crucial policy area and an ongoing research challenge gaining the attention of governments and scholars worldwide since the adoption of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs by the United Nations in 2015 In this context sustainable finance and insurance initiatives have gained prominence aiming to address social environmental and governance ESG issues that impact sustainability within the finance and insurance sectors While there is growing global recognition of sustainable finance and insurance as fundamental drivers of sustained economic growth social development and environmental protection Africa faces obstacles in embracing these practices The continent lags behind in adopting sustainable finance and insurance approaches hindering its progress towards sustainable development goals The integration of sustainability considerations into financial and insurance practices is essential to foster responsible investment long term resilience and effective risk management However compared to some developed economies there is a dearth of empirical theoretical and practical insights on sustainable finance and insurance specific to Africa Nevertheless Africa grapples with unique sustainable development challenges that demand urgent attention Thus this book aims to provide a comprehensive compilation of research and insights on sustainable finance and insurance initiatives in Africa By gathering a wide range of studies the book sheds light on the progress challenges and potential strategies for fostering sustainable finance and insurance practices in Africa Through rigorous analysis and case studies the book aims to contribute valuable knowledge and recommendations for policymakers practitioners and researchers interested in advancing sustainable development in the region The book aims to inspire and catalyze transformative change ultimately leading to more inclusive and sustainable financial systems that benefit both society and the environment

Perspectives in digital health and big data in medicine: Current trends, professional challenges, and ethical, legal, and social implications João Valente Cordeiro, Liliana Laranjo, 2023-10-25

The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The world's agrifood systems stand at a crossroads With 1.3 billion youth globally the future of food livelihoods and economic resilience depends on their participation in agrifood systems At the same time agrifood systems need youth to drive productivity innovation and sustainability in a crucial and rapidly evolving sector FAO's The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems report is a call to action It presents the most comprehensive evidence based analysis of youth in agrifood systems to date highlighting both the opportunities and structural barriers that shape their engagement It explores how transforming agrifood systems can enhance decent job opportunities and food security for youth and how empowered youth can drive this transformation It concludes highlighting policy recommendations and areas of investments to foster more equitable and sustainable agrifood systems where rural youth are both beneficiaries and leaders of change

Rural Wage Employment in Developing Countries Carlos Oya, Nicola Pontara, 2015-05-22

There is a striking scarcity of work conducted on rural labour markets in the developing world particularly in Africa This book aims to fill this gap by bringing together a group of contributors who boast substantial field experience researching rural wage employment in various developing countries It provides critical perspectives on mainstream approaches to rural agrarian development and analysis of agrarian change and rural transformations from a long term perspective This book challenges the notion that rural areas in low and middle income countries are dominated by self employment It purports that this conventional view is largely due to the application of conceptual frameworks and statistical conventions that are ill equipped to capture labour market participation The contributions in this book offer a variety of methodological lessons for the study of rural labour markets focusing in particular on the use of mixed methods in micro level field research and more emphasis on capturing occupation multiplicity The emphasis on context history and specific configurations of power relations affecting rural labour market outcomes are key and reoccurring features of this book This analysis will help readers think about policy options to improve the quantity and quality of rural wage employment their impact on the poorest rural people and their political feasibility in each context
