Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-09-15 Daily Graphic Kingsley Inkoom, 2014-09 Contingent Citizens Elizabeth Hull, 2020-05-27 Contingent Citizens examines the ambiguous state of South Africa's public sector workers and the implications for contemporary understandings of citizenship. It takes us inside an ethnography of the professional ethic of nurses in a rural hospital in KwaZulu Natal shaped by a deep history of mission medicine and changing forms of new public management. Liberal democratic principles of transparency, decentralization and rights, though promising freedom from control, often generate fear and insecurity instead. But despite the pressures they face, Elizabeth Hull shows that nurses draw on a range of practices from international migration to new religious movements to assert new forms of citizenship. Focusing an anthropological lens on professionalism, Hull explores the major fault lines of South Africa's fragmented social landscape: class, gender, race and religion, to make an important contribution to the study of class formation and citizenship. This prize-winning monograph will be of interest to scholars of anthropology, development studies, sociology and global public health.

Sexual Harassment and the Law in Africa Furaha-Joy Sekai Saungweme, Carol Chi Ngang, Graham Towl, 2024-03-19. Written by a team of experts from legal, forensic and policy backgrounds, this book presents new research into sexual violence and harassment across Africa. This first of its kind book foregrounds the work of African scholars and presents careful research analysis and case studies that consider sexual harassment from legal, socio-economic and cultural realities. It highlights the importance of laws around sexual harassment in Africa, the intersectional challenges it poses to women in the workplace and the role of the feminist movement in Africa to hold perpetrators accountable and give voice to survivors of sexual harassment. The book forms part of a broader African-driven research initiative on sexual harassment and the law and is written in partnership with the Africa End Sexual Harassment Initiative (AESHI). It also explores the need to focus on best practice benchmarks for Africa and also learning from developments in Africa. Timely and relevant, the book will be of great interest to legal and policy, academic scholars, professionals and activists working in the fields of gender, policy, forensic psychology and NGOs. It will also be useful reading for postgraduate students of law, gender studies, political science and African studies.

Comparative Human Rights Law Sandra Fredman, 2018-11-08. Courts in different jurisdictions face similar human rights questions. Does the death penalty breach human rights? Does freedom of speech include racist speech? Is there a right to health? This book uses the prism of comparative law to examine the fascinating ways in which these difficult questions are decided. On the one hand, the shared language of human rights suggests that there should be similar solutions to comparable problems. On the other hand, there are important differences. Constitutional texts are worded differently; courts have differing relationships with the legislature; and there are divergences in socio-economic development, politics and history. Nevertheless, there is a growing transnational conversation between courts, with cases in one jurisdiction being cited in others. Part I sets out the cross-cutting themes which shape the ways judges respond to challenging human rights issues. It examines when it is legitimate to refer to foreign materials how universality and cultural relativity are balanced in human rights law the appropriate role of courts in adjudicating human rights in a democracy and the principles judges use to interpret human rights texts The book is unusual in transcending the distinction between socio economic rights and civil and political rights Part II applies these cross cutting themes to comparing human rights law in the US UK South Africa Canada and India Its focus is on seven particularly challenging issues the death penalty abortion housing health speech education and religion with the aim of inspiring further comparative examination of other pressing human rights issues

Research and Discussions in Critical Discourses and Remedies in Global Health Education Ashti A. Doobay-Persaud,Tracy L. Rabin,Tomlin Paul,Jessica Evert ,Benedicta Ayiedu Mensah,2024-10-01 Global Health a field of study research and practice defined in 2009 with precursors in international health and development is currently reckoning with itself The field has well intended goals emphasizing collaboration and dialogue between population health public health clinical care and other disciplines to address socioeconomic determinants of health and employing interdisciplinary approaches to address health inequities wherever they exist Despite these lofty ideals there are concerns that the field itself has historically served to reinforce rather than deconstruct colonialism and power imbalances At this point in time the field has evolved toward a vision of a community of practice between institutions across the income spectrum HIC LMIC LIC working in bidirectional and multidirectional ways to develop staff staff space systems and strategies to eliminate health disparities However with deeply rooted colonial assumptions racism elitism and other forms of bias underlying institutions and individuals initiatives operating under the auspices of Global Health are all too often antithetical to the pursuit itself

Pornography and Genocide Thomas Trzyna, 2019-06-14 One out of every thirty five women born is killed for cultural or sexual reasons In the twentieth century more women were killed for those reasons than all the people who died in wars Women everywhere live in the higher stages of Gregory Stanton's eight stage genocide scale Pornography contributes to the peril whether in the form of battlefield rape films the rape chants of frat boys or the massive distribution of violent images on the web and through other media The United Nations definition of genocide must be changed to recognize women as a targeted group Pornography and Genocide pulls together the evidence from legal scholars and a myriad of contemporary studies and news accounts from around the world It is time to face the war against women CT Colonography for Radiographers Joel H. Bortz,Aarthi Ramlaul,Leonie Munro,2016-08-23 This book explains every aspect of the role of radiographers in performing CT colonography CTC and interpreting CTC images with the aim of enabling radiographers to extend the scope of their practice It provides all the information required with respect to procurement of informed consent principles of CT and radiation dose patient preparation and positioning the use of contrast media the performance of diagnostic and screening CTC studies and the interpretation and reporting of images A wide range of CTC findings are described and depicted covering normal anatomy artifacts hemorrhoids polyps colon cancer diverticular disease lipomas and extracolonic structures In addition a chapter focusing on self assessment of image interpretation will aid learning The rising number of CTC studies for colon disorders is adding to an already burdened radiology workload To reduce this workload radiographers will increasingly be given responsibility to carry out CTC examinations and this book will provide the support that they need in order to perform CTC studies to the standard required Health literacy and disease prevention, volume II Sudip Bhattacharya,Ozden Gokdemir,Deep Shikha,Ferdinando Petrazzuoli,Poonam Kushwaha,2024-03-06 This Research Topic is a follow on from the Topic Editors successful volume I The term health literacy was coined by Ratzan et al in the 1970s providing the minimal health education required in schools however this term is almost new and in the early phase of development Though many attempts have been made in the past to define health literacy WHO construed it as the cognitive and social skills which determine the motivation and ability of individuals to gain access to understand and use information in ways which promote and maintain good health Health literacy not only focuses on the individual behavior oriented communication but also on the various determinants of health such as environmental social and political factors thus it is ahead in the concept of health education If health education methods go beyond the bounds of information diffusion and bring about interaction participation and critical analysis such kind of approach will lead to improved health literacy personal aid and social benefit by enabling adequate community action and contributions to the advancement of social capital evidence of credible academic output These researchers all need valid outlets for their work and the security that authentic peer review brings to the reviewing process In the fields of education social sciences and professional practices e g architecture and law recent years have seen the emergence of new outlets for practitioners research outputs in areas such as one s own practice self reflection and narrative inquiry These outlets are discussed in this book The book also discusses the malign influence of predatory publications in detail This book will be beneficial to university academics postgraduate students Ph D supervisors and new researchers

War, Women, and Power Marie E. Berry, 2018-03-15 Rwanda and Bosnia both experienced mass violence in the early 1990s Less than ten years later Rwandans surprisingly elected the world s highest level of women to parliament In Bosnia women launched thousands of community organizations that became spaces for informal political participation The political mobilization of women in both countries complicates the popular image of women as merely the victims and spoils of war Through a close examination of these cases Marie E Berry unpacks the puzzling relationship between war and women s political mobilization Drawing from over 260 interviews with women in both countries she argues that war can reconfigure gendered power relations by precipitating demographic economic and cultural shifts In the aftermath however many of the gains women made were set back This book offers an entirely new view of women and war and includes concrete suggestions for policy makers development organizations and activists supporting women s rights

Conferences as Sites of Learning and Development Ortrun Zuber-Skerritt, 2017-02-24 This book applies and expands upon the concept of the learning conference as a site of learning and development using the paradigm and methodologies of participatory action learning and action research PALAR Making a significant contribution to the field this is the first book to outline the characteristics and development of a learning conference culture in theory and practice It demonstrates how application of the learning conference concept can maximise learning opportunities and successful research outcomes to bring about sustainable professional organizational and community development An international team of contributors offer their diverse perspectives on conferences and the practical and theoretical work conducted at these events They contextualize these reflections in the light of global developments in this increasingly troubled twenty first century marked by greater complexity through technology globalization neo liberalism climate change and other sources of practical and ideological change all of which enhance the conceptual and practical utility of the learning conference

Textbook of Palliative Care Roderick Duncan MacLeod, Lieve Van den Block, 2025-02-25 This second edition provides the most up to date information on all aspects of palliative care including recent developments including COVID 19 global policies service provision symptom management professional aspects organization of services palliative care for specific populations palliative care emergencies ethical issues in palliative care research in palliative care public health approaches and financial aspects of care This new Textbook of Palliative Care remains a unique comprehensive clinically relevant and state of the art book aimed at advancing palliative care as a science a clinical practice and as an art Palliative care has been part of healthcare for over fifty years but it still needs to be explained to many. Healthcare education and training has been slow to recognize the vital importance of ensuring that all practitioners have a good understanding of what is involved in the care of people with serious or advanced illnesses and their families. However, the science of palliative care is advancing and this new edition will contribute to a better understanding. This new edition offers 86 updated or new chapters out of 108 written by experts in their given fields providing up to date information on a wide range of topics of relevance to those providing care towards the end of life no matter what the disease may be. We present a global perspective on contemporary and classic issues in palliative care with authors from a wide range of disciplines involved in this essential aspect of care. The Textbook includes sections addressing aspects such as symptom management and care provision, organization of care in different settings, care in specific disease groups, palliative care emergencies, ethics, public health approaches and research in palliative care. This new Textbook will be of value to practitioners in all disciplines and professions where the care of people approaching death is important, specialists as well as non specialists in any setting where people with serious advanced illnesses are residing. It is also an important resource for researchers, policy and decision makers at national or regional levels. Neither the science nor the art of palliative care will stand still so the Editors and contributors from all over the world aim to keep this Textbook updated so that the reader can find new evidence and approaches to care.
