Outcome 1 Understand the importance of effective two way communication

Identify the features of two way communication

Communication is a two way process and the key features is how a person will send a message (Sender) and how a person processes and understands the message (receiver) communication is not only about the words used but the manner in which you use them. Body language and effective listening are also good forms of communication.

explain why two way communication is important for individuals with sensory loss

Two way communication is important because it allows the sender to ensure that the receiver has received and understood the message being sent.

explain how own role can impact on the dynamics of two way communication with individuals with sensory loss.

In my role as a support worker I have to be patient when communicating with individuals with sensory loss. I have to take the time to listen and understand what the individuals are asking of me and acknowledge that I have understood. I then ensure that they understand what I am saying. At times I have to repeat what I say also when I speak to individuals on the phone I talk loudly and slowly and acknowledge that I have understood.
