Nwu Closing Dates For 2016 Applicants:

Perception of Energy Experts on the Adoption of Energy Efficient Technology Ir. Dr. THIRUMALAICHELVAM SUBRAMANIAM, 2019-04-22 Barriers to commercial and industrial energy efficiency improvements in Klang Valley Malaysia are more pronounced due to the existence of factors such as weak policy and regulatory frameworks economic and financial constraints lack of information and other issues This research utilized a qualitative research methodology using a phenomenology approach aimed at enhancing the knowledge of commercial and industrial energy efficiency in Klang Valley Malaysia by investigating the barriers associated with the implementation of energy efficiency measure The eleven main themes and twenty eight sub themes identified from the study revealed that energy is poorly managed in the various commercial and industrial sectors and that there is an energy efficiency gap resulting from the low implementation of energy efficiency measures In addition the study revealed that the most important factors impeding the implementation of cost effective energy efficiency technologies in the organizations are principally economic and financial barriers such as lack of budget funding and access to capital The study also revealed that these economic and financial barriers are linked to the lack of adequate government framework for commercial and industrial energy efficiency The study also showed that market factors related to cost reductions resulting from lowered energy use and threats of rising energy prices are the most important drivers for adapting energy efficiency technologies To motivate energy efficiency there should be established standards guidelines roadmaps regulations and enforcement of regulation suitable for the local environment which at present has not been executed completely in Malaysia

Blended learning environments to foster self-directed learning Christo van der Westhuizen, Mncedisi C. Maphalala, Roxanne Bailey, 2023-03-31 This book on blended learning environments to foster self directed learning highlights the focus on research conducted in several teaching and learning contexts where blended learning had been implemented and focused on the fostering of self directed learning Several authors have contributed to the book and each chapter provides a unique perspective on blended learning and self directed learning research From each chapter it becomes evident that coherence on the topics mentioned is established One of the main aspects drawn in this book and addressed by several authors in the book is the use of the Community of Inquiry CoI framework when implementing teaching and learning strategies in blended learning environments to foster self directed learning This notion of focusing on the CoI framework is particularly evident in both theoretical and empirical dissemination presented in this book What makes this book unique is the fact that researchers and peers in varied fields would benefit from the findings presented by each chapter albeit theoretical methodological or empirical in nature this in turn provides opportunities for future research endeavours to further the narrative of how blended learning environments can be used to foster self directed learning

Land-Use Management to Support Sustainable Settlements in South Africa Verna Nel, Stuart Paul Denoon-Stevens, 2023-10-24 This book provides a theoretical and practical foundation needed to change the practice of land use management in Southern Africa It presents an overview of alternative land use management system for South African municipalities that is economically socially and environmentally more sustainable than many of the land use schemes in effect at present Land use management is a component of spatial governance that controls the nature and extent of development to prevent harmful impacts on people and the environment As the current system with its colonial modernist planning and regulatory mechanisms were never designed to deal with rapid change urbanisation and informality a different form of land development and land use management is necessary This timely book reflects the culmination of many years of practical experience and research into various aspects of land use management by the authors and studies undertaken by their master s and doctoral students The book goes beyond an analysis of the problems and suggests concrete proposals that can be applied throughout Southern Africa based on a rural to urban transect This book is directed to a broad range of readers interested in spatial planning and land use management It will be of interest to those in the fields of geography urban studies urban design planning and architecture

Recent Developments in Water Resources and Transportation Engineering

Nidhi Nagabhatla,Yusuf Mehta,Brijesh Kumar Yadav,Ambika Behl,Madhuri Kumari,2023-09-01 This book comprises select proceedings of the International Conference on Trends and Recent Advances in Civil Engineering TRACE 2022 The book focuses on the latest research works carried out in the area of water resources and transportation engineering Various topics covered in this book include technological intervention and solution for smart and sustainability in water resources and transportation infrastructure crop protection resilience to disaster like flood hurricane and drought traffic congestion transport planning green and intelligent transportation infrastructure etc The book is useful to researchers and practitioners working in the areas of civil engineering water resources and transportation engineering

Financial Inclusion Regulatory Practices in SADC Howard Chitimira,Tapiwa Warikandwa,2023-05-25 Against a background of calls to prioritise the improvement of financial inclusion in Africa this book provides an analysis of current financial inclusion measures in Southern Africa Evaluating the existing strengths and weaknesses of financial inclusion in Africa it identifies opportunities to improve inclusive financial services and aid poverty reduction in the region With a focus on South Africa Namibia Botswana and Zimbabwe as case studies for assessing current financial inclusion in the context of particular challenges faced by unbanked and underbanked customers who are easy targets for cybercriminals due to low levels of digital literacy it looks into the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in Southern Africa The book explores financial inclusion in the context of digital transformation in the 21st century examining the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the context of digital transformation as well as the challenges related to financial inclusion Suggesting improvements to aspects of company law securities and financial markets in the Southern African Development Community region the book offers a comprehensive study on the regulation and promotion of financial inclusion in the Southern African Development Community region It will be essential reading for students and academics researching financial inclusion

Handbook of Quality of Life in African Societies Irma Eloff, 2019-08-09 This handbook reflects on quality of life in societies on the continent of Africa. It provides a widely interdisciplinary text with insights on quality of life from a variety of scientific perspectives. The handbook is structured into sections covering themes of social context, culture and community, the environment and technology, health, education and family. It is aimed at scholars who are working towards sustainable development at the intersections of multiple scientific fields and it provides measures of both objective and subjective quality of life. The scholarly contributions in the text are based on original research and it spans fields of research such as cultures of positivity, wellbeing, literacy and multilingualism, digital and mobile technologies, economic growth, food and nutrition, health promotion, community development, teacher education and family life. Some chapters take a broad approach and report on research findings involving thousands and in one case millions of participants. Other chapters zoom in and illustrate the importance of specificity in quality of life studies. Collectively, the handbook illuminates the particularity of quality of life in Africa, the unique contextual challenges and the resourcefulness with which challenges are being mediated. This handbook provides empirically grounded conceptualizations about life in Africa that also encapsulate the dynamic, ingenious ways in which we as Africans enhance our quality of life.

Globalisation and Historiography of National Leaders Joseph Zajda, Tatyana Tsyrlina-Spady, Michael Lovorn, 2016-12-23 Globalisation and Historiography of National Leaders: Symbolic Representations in School Textbooks is the 18th book in the 24 volume book series Globalisation: Comparative Education and Policy Research. It explores the interrelationship between ideology, national identity, national history and historical heroes, setting it in a global context. Based on this focus, the chapters represent hand-picked scholarly research on major discourses in the field of history textbooks and symbolic representations of national heroes and draw upon recent studies in the areas of globalisation, history textbooks and national leaders. A number of researchers have written on the importance of teaching national history in order to foster national identity and a sense of belonging to a certain society, state and people among the younger generation. Some nations prefer to create national heroes out of their political leaders who are still in power and whose lives and reputation are portrayed as being eminently spotless. Using diverse comparative education paradigms from critical theory, social semiotics and historical comparative research, the authors analyse the unpacking of the ideological agenda hidden behind the choice and lionization or silencing of the preferred national heroes. They provide an informed critique of various historical narratives depicting national leaders and national heroes. The book provides an easily accessible, practical yet scholarly source of information on international concerns in the field of globalisation, history education and policy research. Offering an essential sourcebook of ideas for researchers, history educators, practitioners and policymakers in the fields of globalisation and history.

education it also provides a timely overview of current changes in politically correct history education narratives in history textbooks

The Diffusion of Law Sue Farran, James Gallen, Christa Rautenbach, 2016-03-09 In considering diffusion from a global perspective this book provides timely new insights into its application in a variety of fields and at many levels of both legal and non legal orderings This collection contributes to the wider theoretical debate concerning the movement of law and legal norms by engaging with concrete examples of legal diffusion in jurisdictions as diverse as Albania the Czech Republic Poland and Kuwait These examples taken together provide a comprehensive illustration of the theoretical debates concerning the diffusion of laws and norms in terms of both process and form This international multi disciplinary and multi methodological volume brings together scholars from law and social science with experience in mixed and hybrid jurisdictions and advances the conversation about legal and normative diffusion across the academy It represents a robust challenge to many preconceived ideas about legal movement and as such will be of interest to academics and students working in the fields of Law Sociology Anthropology Political Science Legal Education and comparative method

Integrated Productivity in Urban Africa Donald Okeke, 2016-08-12 This book introduces readers to neo mercantile planning theory in the context of spatial regional integration in Africa It proposes a new approach that rethinks neo liberalism as the meta theory of planning in Africa and pioneers an original school of thought that presents a general theory of planning for Africa in the twenty first century Research to substantiate the new theory was conducted over the period November 2010 to May 2015 and is presented here in four sections with more than 500 references The book offers comprehensive coverage from the theoretical foundations and framework through application and empirical research to analysis conclusions and recommendations

The Handbook of Social Work and Social Development in Africa Mel Gray, 2016-10-26 All recent books on international social work mention Africa only briefly and few engage with the broader field of development studies This book focuses solely on the unique African context engaging with issues relating to social work and development more broadly thus enabling a deeper examination and more complex and nuanced picture to emerge Unlike most academic works this book highlights multiple practitioner voices with authors or co authors that have recently been or are currently practising social workers As an edited book it draws from both academic research as well as lived practice experience supported by strong theoretical positioning and guidance in introductory chapters drawing on African literature wherever possible Looking at case studies from Lesotho Botswana Kenya Zimbabwe Ethiopia Namibia Uganda Nigeria Kenya South Africa Rwanda Zambia and Tanzania and covering established areas of practice such as child protection working with older people working with people with disabilities mental health and mainstream services targeting women as well as emerging areas of developmental social work practice such as humanitarian assistance in post conflict situations work with immigrants and refugees and the training of community based workers this book takes a future oriented perspective that aims to move beyond well worn critiques to envision constructive and sustainable futures for social work and social development in Africa from a critical perspective      Advanced Graph Theory and Combinatorics Michel Rigo,2016-11-22 Advanced Graph Theory focuses on some of the main notions arising in graph theory with an emphasis from the very start of the book on the possible applications of the theory and the fruitful links existing with linear algebra The second part of the book covers basic material related to linear recurrence relations with application to counting and the asymptotic estimate of the rate of growth of a sequence satisfying a recurrence relation      Tissue Engineering and Artificial Organs Joseph D. Bronzino,Donald R. Peterson,2016-04-19 Over the last century medicine has come out of the black bag and emerged as one of the most dynamic and advanced fields of development in science and technology Today biomedical engineering plays a critical role in patient diagnosis care and rehabilitation As such the field encompasses a wide range of disciplines from biology and physiology      Constitutional Courts, Media and Public Opinion Angioletta Sperti,2023-11-16 This book explores how constitutional courts have transformed communication and overcome their reluctance to engage in direct dialogue with citizens How has the information revolution affected the relationship of constitutional courts with the public and the media The book looks in detail at the communication strategies of the US Supreme Court the Supreme Court of Canada and in Europe the German Federal Constitutional Tribunal the French Conseil Constitutionnel and the Italian Constitutional Court arguing that when it comes to the relationship between courts and the media different jurisdictions share many similarities It focuses on the consequences of the communication revolution of courts both in terms of their relationship with public opinion and of the legitimacy of judicial review of legislation Some constitutional courts have attracted criticism by engaging in proactive communication and therefore arguably yielding to the temptation of public support The book argues that objections to the developing institutional communications employed by courts come from a preconceived notion of public opinion It considers the burden the communication revolution has placed on constitutional courts to achieve a balance between transparency and seclusion proximity and distance from public opinion It puts forward important arguments for how this balance can be achieved The book will interest scholars in constitutional law and public comparative law sociologists historians political scientists and scholars of media law and communication studies      Applied Mechanics Reviews ,1995      Network Pharmacology and Traditional Medicine Shao Li,Yuanjia Hu,Shi-Bing Su,2020-10-08 This eBook is a collection of articles from a Frontiers Research Topic Frontiers Research Topics are very popular trademarks of the Frontiers Journals Series they are collections of at least ten articles all centered on a particular subject With their unique mix of varied contributions from Original Research to Review Articles Frontiers Research Topics unify the most influential researchers the latest key findings and historical advances in a hot research area Find out more on how to host your own Frontiers Research Topic or contribute to one as an author by contacting the Frontiers Editorial Office frontiersin.org about contact      Recent Advances in Molecular Targets for Drug Discovery and Delivery in Tumor Sanjun Shi,Jianxun Ding,Xianjue Chen,Jingxin Mo,Zhi-xiang Yuan,2022-05-05      APOPTOSIS INDUCTION/SUPPRESSION: A

FEASIBLE APPROACH FOR NATURAL PRODUCTS TO TREATMENT OF DISEASES, 2nd Edition Hong Zhang, Hailing Xin, Wei Peng, Khalid Rahman, 2025-01-23

This Research Topic is part of a series. See also Apoptosis Induction Suppression A Feasible Approach for Natural Products to Treatment of Diseases Volume II. Apoptosis is generally recognized as a form of programmed cell death which is beneficial for normal cell development, organ growth and tissue homeostasis in multicellular organisms. In normal conditions, millions of cells would indeed die and proliferate every day in the human body. However, an imbalance between cell death and proliferation can lead to some serious diseases. Two different case scenarios can be distinguished: 1) uncontrolled cell proliferation and insufficient cell apoptosis would lead to various cancer types and autoimmune diseases, e.g. rheumatoid arthritis, lupus erythematosus, etc. 2) excessive apoptosis in normal cells, e.g. neural cells or cardiomyocytes, would result in neurodegenerative diseases, Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease, and Huntington's disease, and ischemia injuries, myocardial infarction, stroke, etc. respectively. Natural products from plants, animals, microorganisms, and minerals are potentially important resources in the context of drug discovery for various diseases. Importantly, increasing scientific evidence has suggested that apoptosis induction or suppression might be one of the predominant molecular mechanisms whereby natural products could be used to treat diseases, especially cancer, rheumatoid arthritis, Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease, stroke, etc. However, not much is known about the detailed molecular mechanisms underlying apoptosis induction or suppression, including signaling pathways, novel and key pharmacological targets, as well as the action of specific active substances extracted from plants, etc. In addition, lots of active natural products based on apoptosis regulation have already received drug regulatory approvals, e.g. taxol, camptothecin, and sinomenine, and been used as clinical drugs to treat diseases. Furthermore, there are many other natural products in the stages of clinical investigations. However, the related advance and update of the current drug development correlated to apoptosis induction or suppression, systematic reviews or meta-analysis of these clinical drugs or candidate drugs in clinical research stage are insufficient. This Research Topic will provide an academic platform to discuss how natural products can be used to treat several types of diseases via apoptosis induction/suppression. We invite authors to contribute original research and review articles testing the action of natural bioactive products on various diseases through apoptosis regulation, including induction and suppression. We aim to particularly focus on the recent advances in the curative properties of natural products on cancers, tumors, autoimmune diseases, neurodegenerative diseases, and cardiac diseases through apoptosis regulation and new natural bioactive agents for controlling diseases via regulating apoptosis. Potential topics will include, but won't be limited to, the following: 1) Advance in curative properties of natural products on diseases via apoptosis regulation. 2) Advance and update of the current drug development correlated to apoptosis induction or suppression. 3) Novel natural products with curative activities via apoptosis induction, in particular for cancers, tumors, rheumatoid arthritis, and lupus erythematosus. 4) Novel natural products with curative activities via apoptosis suppression, in particular for neurodegenerative diseases.

Alzheimer's disease Parkinson's disease and Huntington's disease and ischemia injury myocardial infarction stroke 5 Novel signal molecules for the apoptosis related signal pathway 6 Systematic reviews or meta analysis of the approved natural drugs or candidate natural drugs in clinical research stage with induction or suppression of apoptosis The four pillars of best practice in ethnopharmacology With these guidelines we define in detail what constitutes best practice for manuscripts submitted to Frontiers in Pharmacology Section Ethnopharmacology They provide a basis for the peer review and build on the general requirements of Frontiers in Pharmacology 1 Pharmacology a The manuscript MS must report a substantive body of ethnopharmacological research to be considered as an independent addition to the literature In general we expect that such studies are based on local traditional uses of plants or other natural substances which need to be spelled out clearly b For pharmacological studies the model used must be one which is either generally accepted in the field as valid or a credible alternative whose general development and application in the reported instance has been justified Specifically antioxidant activity must be based on a pharmacologically relevant in vivo or cell based model Simple in silico and pharmacologically irrelevant assays for antioxidant activity e.g. the DPPH assay FRAP Ferric Reducing Ability of Plasma ABTS 2,2-azino-bis (3-ethylbenzothiazoline) 6-sulfonic acid are not acceptable as a main tool for assessing an extract or a compound for activity c Similarly simple screening for anti microbial effects of crude extracts is no longer state of the art Authors must follow the widely accepted standards for microbiological testing cf Cos et al 2006 Anti infective potential of natural products How to develop a stronger in vitro proof of concept Journal of Ethnopharmacology 106:290-302 and subsequent methods papers Such research is only meaningful if it contributes to our mechanistic understanding of anti microbial effects its specificity or identifies novel leads d The dose ranges must be therapeutically relevant While it will be impossible to define an exact cut off the literature in the field is now replete with studies which test extracts at implausibly high doses Single dose studies will only be of relevance in exceptional circumstances e.g. in case of specific complex pharmacological models And of course positive and negative controls must be included e In order to establish therapeutic benefits selectivity data are essential How specific is the effect Many compounds have non selective in vitro effects and research on common compounds must be justified in terms of the potential therapeutic benefits While such research may be relevant and have potential applications authors will need to assess the specificity of a single compound or an extract rich in a well studied compound like rutin curcumin or quercetin and provide evidence for the relevance and novelty of the approach f Docking studies must be justified with affinity experiments or other well established experimental methods to support a proposed mechanism of action Algorithmic docking studies will not be accepted these indicate if a compound will fit into a binding site but do not indicate the binding affinity or the ability to induce a conformational change 2 Composition a Botanical The identification of the study material must be described well All species are fully validated using Kew MPNS portal or The Plant List initiative or Plants of the World Online Of course full botanical documentation is essential i.e. a voucher specimen deposited in a recognised herbarium A scan of the voucher s is welcome as supplementary material and encourage authors to include the coordinates of the location where the material had been collected b Chemical The composition of the study material must be described in sufficient detail Chromatograms with a characterisation of the dominating compound s are preferable If preparations are used which are available commercially quality parameters provided in pharmacopoeia must be provided The material under study must be characterised using the methods of the relevant monograph If pure compounds are used sufficient information on the level of purity must be included Especially in in vitro models the authors must be confident that the compounds are stable under the conditions used for example they do not degrade due to high concentrations of DMSO A critical aspect that should be considered is how these assays and extraction protocols are linked to local and traditional uses In this way variables such as the solubility of the compound in the traditional preparation and in the analytical extraction protocol should be taken into consideration All chemical line structures must be drawn using a internationally accepted structure drawing programme must be consistent and if possible and relevant the stereochemistry needs to be given c Multiherbal preparations Very often multiherbal preparations are used Full information on their composition in terms of the botanical drugs species included and information on the rationale for studying this preparation needs to be included It is essential that in these cases sufficient details are provided on the botanical 2a and chemical 2b characterisation 3 Basic requirements and research ethics Frontiers has very well developed guidelines relating to ethical aspects of a MS Specifically for Frontiers in Pharmacology Ethnopharmacology the following key requirements are essential a The objectives of the research reported must be spelled out clearly and in detail All MS must critically assess the scientific basis of the work and provide meaningful conclusions which are based on a clear hypothesis research question as defined in the introduction Ethnopharmacological research must assess whether a compound or plant extract has a certain effect and it cannot be about confirming an extract s or compound s effects or efficacy b Research must add new and scientifically substantive knowledge to our understanding of the pharmacology and use of medicinal plants A key basis for this is a review of literature relevant to the pharmacological activity already reported on the species including possibly related taxa or compounds This must be up to date and clearly demonstrate the substantive addition to the literature the MS submitted represents Simply using advanced measurements techniques protocols reproducing previous studies of the same plant product will only be accepted in exceptional circumstances e g previously unknown highly active components are discovered c Compliance with all international ethical standards is essential In the context of ethnopharmacology the Convention on Biological Diversity and most recently the Nagoya Protocol are of particular relevance <https://www.cbd.int/abs> d Research in ethnopharmacology is based on local and traditional knowledge often passed on orally over generations Ultimately research in this field must therefore benefit those populations who are or were the original keeper of this knowledge e The use of animals must be justified in the context of novelty see also part 1 It is ethically not acceptable to have yet another in vivo study on an already well studied species

demonstrating some common activity e g an anti inflammatory effect studied in the rat paw edema The same is true for species which are chemically very similar and generally are rich in common ingredient to ones already studied pharmacologically Such studies must meet s the standards of rigor we expect in ethnopharmacology as defined in the Frontiers guidelines 4 Other specific requirements a Studies focusing on local and traditional uses of plants ethnopharmacological field studies must be based on substantial original data The relevance of the MS in the context of previous studies in the geographical region must be spelled out clearly and it must contribute to the understanding of the therapeutic uses of plant species and inform experimental or clinical studies This includes an adequate presentation and discussion of the data Also social science centered studies e g ethnobotanical studies or health system research of local and traditional medical systems are welcome This journal subscribes to the ConSEFS standards including any updates b In case of reviews we expect clearly defined scientific aims objectives a comprehensive critical and specific assessment of the relevant information linking local and other medical uses to the biomedical and bioscientific evidence Reviews need to define future research needs and priorities It is essential that the scientific quality of the original articles cited is assessed If pharmacological studies are reviewed particular attention must be paid to assessing the quality of the studies c Food plants are commonly reported to have pharmacological effects Frontiers in Ethnopharmacology focuses on therapeutic benefits of such species and not on the general food nutritional properties

Global Warming L. D. Danny Harvey, 2018-10-08 Global Warming The Hard Science presents a comprehensive qualitatively rigorous and critical discussion of the science underlying the global warming issue The major processes in the climate system needed to understand projected human induced climatic change are presented in detail Observational systems used to monitor changes in the climate system and the ways in which the raw data are analyzed in order to produce estimates of current trends are also critically reviewed The author discusses the hierarchy of computer models used to project changes in the carbon cycle in climate and in sea level and examines the physical principles underlying the greenhouse effect and projected warming The text also presents a detailed discussion of the carbon cycle of climate sensitivity and of projected patterns of climatic change through time Sea level rise and issues of risk and potential surprises are also critically assessed Emphasis is placed throughout on developing an intuitive understanding of those results that do not depend on the details of any one computer simulation model A series of boxes illustrate the key points through step by step calculations
