

My Story

I have been a nurse for just over ten years. I earned my degree with the support of my wife and financial assistance for the GI bill. I was drawn to the profession of nursing after a brief exposure to an advanced course in field triage while serving in the army. I find the human body fascinating and am always learning. I also was attracted to the profession for all the usual reasons that bring people to the profession of nursing. I enjoy the reward of giving to my fellow man.

I believe that health care and the advocacy of safe care is the foundation of nursing that was started by our founders like Florence Nightingale. Our practice act calls for our profession to advocate for our patients and against practices that puts their safety in jeopardy.

The healthcare industry has for the last twenty plus years constructed an environment to maximize profits at the expense of patient safety and our profession. We as nurses have stood by fairly quit and allowed for this to happen.

Recently, I and others voiced concerns related to patient safety and working conditions at Summit Hospital a hospital owned by Healthcare Corporation of America. Our issues included the working of nurse with approximately six month of experience for more than twenty four hours straight. This particular nurse did volunteer to work these hours but in my opinion should not have been ask to do so. She is a great nurse for her limited experience but put her license and the safety of her patients at risk that night. The manager of the unit failed her and the patients in her charge. Study after study has shown that the error rate goes off the chart after twelve hours. I and fifteen other nurses also expressed to management our concerns over the floating policies that were sending unqualified nurses to our unit. We noted several instances where these nurse made errors that put the patient in potential jeopardy. We also expressed our concerns over ratios of 3 to 1 becoming the norm in the unit when 2 to 1 is considered the norm in intensive care across most of the country.

We submitted these concerns in writing and signed by sixteen nurses from our unit. Management responded by holding meetings with a group of employees that they chose and their representatives which included the director of HR, our unit manager and the director of nursing. The meetings at their start gave us some hope that our issues might be taken seriously and dealt with. It was soon apparent that would not be the case and these meetings quickly moved away from our issues to their issues. They would agree that their were problems but would not put any solutions into writing, stating that they needed to be able to remain flexible and made statements like we will try instead of we will.

At around this same time I was informed of an organization called the NNOC or National Nurses Organizing Committee, <http://www.nurses.org/nnoc/about-nnoc.html> that was holding meetings in the Nashville area to organize nurses to advocate for patients and against many of the problems that I expressed above. I met with their organizer and felt that their movement was something that I could support. I became a member of the NNOC and began attending meetings on a regular basis. I also began placing invitations to attend meetings in the break room of my unit and speaking with interested coworkers, while on break, about the need to organize and advocate for our patients and our profession.

After a short period of time I was ask by my manager about my involvement with the NNOC and my desire to form a union at Summit Hospital. I did not deny my association and did not hide my opinion as to why I felt that organizing was needed. I also informed them that I had the right as outlined in the National Labor Relation Act. The nursing staff at Summit was then subjected to mandatory anti union meetings and letter sent to our homes and to our email accounts at work. I was required to attend meetings with the hospital attorney and informed that because I was a charge nurse I was considered management and could not

Nurse Exemplar Stories:

Realizing the Future of Nursing: VA Nurses Tell Their Story Department of Veteran Affairs Nurses, 2015-09-29 The stories told in this book reflect the hard work and dedication of the Veterans Affairs nurses who provide care to our nation's heroes. Four key messages outlined in the book help explain the important role of VA nurses. Key Message 1: Nurses should practice to the full extent of their education and training. Key Message 2: Nurses should achieve higher levels of education and training through an improved education system that promotes seamless academic progression. Key Message 3: Nurses should be full partners with physicians and other health care professionals in redesigning health care in the United States. Key Message 4: Effective workforce planning and policy making require better data collection and an improved information structure. This book addresses the staffing issues in military healthcare with policy and workforce planning towards an improved information structure between the nurses, healthcare professionals, and physicians. Keywords: Department of Veterans Affairs nursing program, Veteran Affairs VA nursing nurses, Veterans Affairs nursing education program, VA nursing education program, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, U.S. department of veterans affairs, VA staffing issues in military healthcare.

Nursing Interventions Through Time Patricia D'Antonio, Sandra Lewenson, 2011. Named a 2011 Choice Outstanding Academic Title. Designated a Doody's Core Title. This is a must-read for nurses who are interested in where nursing has been and what nurses have done to get to the present day. Score 94, 4 stars. Doody's Nursing has a rich history that consistently informs contemporary practice and standards. This book, by examining pivotal historical interventions across the spectrum of clinical care, allows nurses of today to incorporate the wisdom of the past into their own daily work. Maternal child health programs, palliative care, tuberculosis medications, pediatric care, and diabetes care, and more are discussed. This invaluable resource documents how and why specific nursing interventions came about, what aspects of these interventions are utilized today, and why, and how nurses of the past have addressed and solved the challenges of practice from adapting to new technologies to managing the tension of the nurse-physician relationship. Learn how nurses of the past 150 years have combated the challenges of providing care to victims of pandemics such as yellow fever, tuberculosis, and influenza. Adapting to new medical practices and technologies throughout the 20th century. Integrating cultural sensitivity into clinical care for special populations and underserved communities. Bringing public health services to rural communities. Fighting for public health policies that support hospice services in the United States.

Nursing Theories and Nursing Practice Marlaine C. Smith, 2019-09-24. The only nursing research and theory book with primary works by the original theorists. Noted nursing scholars explore the historical and contemporary theories that are the foundation of nursing practice today. The 5th Edition continues to meet the needs of today's students with an expanded focus on the middle-range theories and practice models that link theory to clinical practice. You'll explore the role of these theories in the real world to see how they guide nursing practice.
