Ethology and Behavioral Ecology of Mysticetes Christopher W. Clark,Ellen C. Garland,2022-07-02 In this book an international team of leading marine mammal scientists with a remarkably diverse set of backgrounds and areas of expertise lead you through a synthesis of current knowledge on baleen whales. Baleen whales are the largest animals ever to have lived on this planet. They also have the lowest and most intense voices on Earth, most likely evolved to take advantage of ocean acoustic transmission conditions so as to be detectable across ocean basins. Some baleen whales can live to be 150–200 years old. They migrate many thousands of kilometers between feeding and breeding areas. They produce songs and calls that serve as behavioral foundations for establishing, maintaining, and expanding their cultural identities. To conclude that we know the behavioral limits of these large-brained, long-lived animals would be naïve. As baleen whale scientists, we are still beginning to comprehend the enormous complexities and natural histories of these remarkable animals. Today, the fact that whales sing is known throughout much of the world. This awareness started 50 years ago with the publication and popularization of a collection of humpback song recordings that motivated research into baleen whale behavioral ethology. In this book's chapters, a reader's experiences will stretch from learning about baleen whale laryngeal anatomy associated with their different voices to learning about the vast ocean areas over which their voices can be heard and the emerging complexities of their culturally defined societies. These are accompanied by chapters on the fundamental ethological contexts of socializing, migrating, and foraging. Two common themes permeate the book. One theme highlights the phenomenal increase in scientific knowledge achieved through technological advancements. The other theme recognizes the impacts of human-made activities on ocean acoustic environments and the resultant influences on the health and survival of individual whales and their populations. Although the book is intentionally ambitious in its scope, as scientists, we fully recognize that baleen whale science is still in its infancy. Many profound revelations await discovery by cohorts of young, multi-talented explorers, some of whom are stretching their wings in this volume and some of whom are reading these scientific stories for the first time.

Leading Change in Gender and Diversity in Higher Education from Margins to Mainstream Anna

Cohen-Miller, Tamsin Hinton-Smith, Fawzia Haeri Mazanderani, Nupur Samuel, 2022-12-30. This edited book provides international insights and recommendations around topics of gender and diversity in higher education, linking to larger societal goals of improving equality. Within each of the four sections—Student recruitment and retention, Student experience, Faculty and staff experiences and culture, and Higher education cultures of teaching and research—topics unpack and speak to gender and diversity, equity, inclusion, and access, social justice, and leadership and sustainability in higher education institutions. HEIs incorporating innovative processes and methods: the researchers address how the experiences of groups who have been subordinated and marginalized can be heard, proposing a re-imagining of empowerment and leadership within higher education and best practices for the benefit of ongoing higher education development. This book is ideal reading for higher education leaders, students on higher education courses, leadership courses, gender in education, as well as researchers/practitioners for topics of gender and diversity, equity, inclusion, and access, social justice, leadership, and
