Linking Language, Trade and Migration Ruriko Otomo, 2023-06-21 This book examines the effect of trade policy on language which represents an underrecognized area in the field of language policy and planning It argues that trade policies like Japan s Economic Partnership Agreements EPAs have important consequences for national language education policies and for discourses about language and nation Since 2008 Japan has signed the EPAs with Indonesia the Philippines and Vietnam to recruit migrant nurses and eldercare workers and manage their mobility by means of pre employment language training and the Japanese medium licensure examinations Through the analysis of these language management devices this book demonstrates that the EPAs are a manifestation and representation of contemporary language issues intertwined particularly with pressing issues of Japan's social aging and demographic change As the EPAs are intertwined with welfare economy social cohesion and international political and economic relations and competitiveness the book presents a far more complex picture of and a richer potential of language policy The
